SAMUEL LONGTUBE and JAMES TRAVELGAS will oblige by calling upon SATZUMA, at the Royal Furnishing Arcade, relative to the newly proposed method of supplying Sydney with gas. The idea is to make the gas at the mouth of the coal pit, and convey it through a main pipe by the side of the railway line to Sydney, thereby saving haulage of coal, and releasing hundreds of railway trucks for the fast increasing interior goods traffic. The iron tubing will of course be rather costly, but the enormous saving in wear and tear on the railroad will soon pay for it, and we shall have gas at every station and every town between Wallerawang and Sydney.

A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Sydney, April 13, 1877.
It being necessary to POSTPONE the proposed PARADE of the INTERNATIONAL CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE, from SATURDAY, the 14th instant, until MONDAY, the 16th instant, the management thereof desire to state the cause of such postponement, and to apologise to the public for announcing it for Saturday, before being sure that it could be given upon that day. Upon arriving here yesterday from Hobart Town, it was discovered that the large band chariot of the company, in which was stored the wood, rope, and paraphernalia used exclusively for street parade, had not arrived from Melbourne, owing to the failure of the steamship company having charge of its transportation to ship the same. It had been placed upon their dock in Melbourne, and should have been sent here some time since according to agreement. Its whereabouts being unknown, the telegraph was used, and it was then ascertained that the missing chariot was on board the steamship You Yangs, en route for Sydney. As the parade if given without this band chariot, and the special wardrobe with it, would be shorn of much of its beauty, the management have determined to postpone the parade until MONDAY next, at the advertised hour, and over the advertised route. The exhibition, however, will open as advertised—SATURDAY EVENING, April 14.

Hoping that this explanation will prove satisfactory to the public, I beg leave to subscribe myself, the public's obedient servant,
J. A. BAILEY.
Manager Great International Allied Show.

WANTED, 40 young Men, to act as USHERS and SUPERNUMERARIES at Cooper, Bailey, and Co.'s International Allied Shows, Haymarket Reserve. Apply to N. Austin, equestrian director, at the Circus, Haymarket Reserve, between, 2 and 4 p.m., TO-DAY.

HURRICANE AT LACEPEDE ISLANDS.

(From the Perth Inquirer, March 27.)

INTELLIGENCE reaches us of a terrible hurricane having swept over the Lacepede Islands on the 16th ultimo, which blew with terrific violence on the 17th, causing the total loss of six vessels and the death, by drowning, of six persons. At the time of the gale there were ten vessels lying at anchor, some loaded, others partly so, or in ballast. Three of them—the barque Star of Jamaica, the brig Emily, and the barque Amur—slipped their cables and put out to sea, the masters of these vessels fearing lest they would part their anchors at low water and get aground, which would undoubtedly have led to the sacrifice of many lives, as the water rises and falls twenty feet. The storm gave timely warning of its approach. An opportunity was therefore afforded to the masters of the vessels to do as the Amur and others did, proceed out to sea and ride out the storm, rather than remain in an open unprotected roadstead. The wind commenced blowing from the westward, hauled to the east, then to the north-east, and back to the north-west, from which quarter it blew the heaviest and occasioned the most mischief. The Star of Jamaica returned to the island after the storm had abated, picked up her anchors, and again went out to sea. The Amur (Captain Henry O'Grady) proceeded to Port Walcott, which she reached in safety; she is en route to Fremantle. The barque Cingalee, of Dundee, was the first to slip her cable and to run ashore on the western island; then followed the Aboyne, of London, laden with 400 tons of guano. Being heavily laden, she did not get so near the beach as the other vessels, and immediately after she struck she went to pieces so quickly that it was impossible to save those who required help. The captain's wife, Mrs. Swan, and their two children, at the time were in the cabin. The ship's carpenter and the two apprentice boys are also among the lost. So terrific was the sea that the effect upon the Aboyne, on her first striking the loose coral and boulders, probably by the compressed air in the hold being acted upon by the concussion, was to thrust up her decks, and to cause the guano to rise up far above her mastheads, and twenty minutes after she had struck not a vestige of her was to be seen. Although only 200 yards from one island to the other, it was impossible for Mr. Wynne's party on shore, or the survivors of the wrecks, to render any assistance, the boats being broken up or driven out to sea. At 3 a.m. on Sunday, the body of a little girl, about four years of age, was washed ashore. At daylight a party went over to the western island in search of other bodies, and a most painful and revolting sight presented itself. Here was a little child nine months old lying dead; alongside was the body of one of the apprentice boys—both the arms and one leg had been bitten off by the sharks. A little further on was the body of the other boy; but worst of all was the discovery of the remains of Mrs. Swan in a dreadfully mutilated state. In the afternoon the body of the carpenter was observed floating ashore, but before it could be got out of the surf it was devoured by sharks. The other vessels which went ashore at the Lacepede Islands and are totally lost are the Albert Victor, of Melbourne, 384 tons; Helen Malcolm, of Melbourne, 311 tons; Mary Smith, of Hartlepool, 150 tons; the Isabella, of Newcastle, New South Wales, 258 tons; at Beagle Bay the Bessie, of Rye, 228 tons, is also reported a total wreck. There were seventy men on the island belonging to the wrecked vessels; these are now en route to Fremantle by the barque Prince Arthur, which weathered the gale. About thirty men belonging to Messrs. Poole, Picken, and Co. are left on the island, and it has been stated that they have only seven days' provisions left. This, however, we are enabled to contradict on the authority of gentlemen connected with the firm who have recently returned from the islands. Captain M'Eachern is about to return to Melbourne to forward extra plant and stores, and Mr. Cheetham, who came down by the City of Hobart, returns to the islands. The following extract from a private letter received by a gentleman in Perth has been courteously placed at our disposal:—"The sight that the island presented confirmed my worst fears—not one vessel afloat, four fine vessels on the top of the island, and two more smashed up, their fragments scattered and strewed along the beach. In addition to the six, the schooner Bessie, having gone across to Beagle Bay for water for the whole community here, was lost in the gale; but all hands were saved, and have since been rescued by Captain Wills, of the Prince Arthur, the only vessel that rode out the terrible gale and still more terrific sea that rolled in, breaking right over the tops. The saddest part of the story, however, I had yet to learn. Mrs. Swan, wife of the captain of the barque Aboyne, and her two children were lost; when Captain Swan made up his mind to beach his vessel, he had his wife and two children placed below with one apprentice. The ship being laden struck some considerable distance from the shore, and after two or three minutes' fearful bumping, during which the sea broke in volume completely over her, she parted fore and aft, and in a few minutes all that remained of the Aboyne were broken planks, spars, sails, and tangled rigging strewn along the beach. The bodies of Mrs. Swan and both children, discovered among the wreckage, were washed ashore. Mother and children are buried on the island. A neat tombstone marks their last resting-place, and a wooden cross decorated by creeping plants has been planted over the little mound as a memento of the affection of her sorrowing husband and friends.

[In adddition to the foregoing notice of the wrecks, it may be mentioned that the Mary Smith, which parted from her moorings, was got off from the spot where she grounded without sustaining any injury, but having no anchors to hold her, she drifted through the gut, and struck again on a rocky spit, where it was feared nothing could save her. The Helen Malcolm and Albert Victor are said to be insured, and also the cargo of the Aboyne.]

RE-VACCINATION.—The folly of neglecting re-vaccination as a remedy against the ravages of small-pox has been illustrated in a lamentable manner in a parish in the Isle of Thanet. A London newspaper says that towards the close of last year the disease appeared in the village of St. Peter's, having, it is said, been imported there by a woman who brought home the clothes of a small-pox patient at Chatham to wash. She took the disease, which ended fatally in her case, and shortly afterwards another person in the village was attacked, but it does not appear that any spread of the complaint was apprehended, these two cases being, in fact, regarded as isolated ones. Subsequently, however, others of the villagers fell ill and the small-pox has since become so prevalent that the epidemic has almost assumed the character of a plague. Nearly fifty cases are reported to have taken place within a very limited area and the percentage of deaths is very large. So great is the alarm felt that the village is completely tabooed; all communication with it has been stopped; even the Post-office is closed, the shops are shut up, and the parish church is almost deserted by the large congregation who ordinarily frequent it. Altogether this usually busy and lively little village presents the appearance of a plague-stricken place, the resemblance being heightened by the large fires that have been kindled at different points, and kept burning with a view to the purification of the air. If it be true, as we have heard, that the people of St. Peter's stoutly opposed vaccination at the commencement of the outbreak, they have now sad reason to repent of their culpable stupidity; and it is to be hoped that the calamity that has overtaken their village will serve as a warning to all who are hostile to that most essential operation.

The P. and O. Co.'s branch steamer takes her departure for Melbourne to-day at noon, taking the homeward mails and passengers to be transhipped to the company's steamer Bangalore a Melbourne.

The Tambaroora (s.) left Brisbane Wharf at noon on the 10th instant, and rounded Cape Moreton at 7 p.m. on the same day. Experienced light easterly winds and variable breezes, with calms and smooth sea, to the Richmond; from thence to Tacking Point strong southerly winds and head sea; passed North Solitary at 7.30 p.m. on the 11th, and Port Stephens at 6 p.m. on the 12th. Had moderate north-east and northerly winds and clear weather and smooth sea during the remainder of the passage. Entered the heads at 4.30 a.m., and anchored off Parbury, Lamb, and Co.'s wharf at 5 a.m., on the 13th.

The New England (s.) left Grafton at 8 a.m. on April 11, and crossed the bar at 6 p.m. Experienced light south-easterly winds during the first part of the passage, and afterwards light northerly winds, arriving in Sydney at midnight on the 12th instant. Cargo: 2560 bags maize, 212 bags tin ore, 20 bales wool, 12 casks tallow, 6 cases eggs, 4 coops fowls, 20 pigs, 35 bags oysters, 800 bunches bananas, 6 cases sundries.

The Atalanta, Amphitrite, and Neptune left Ballina for Sydney yesterday.

A telegram has been received by the President of the Marine Board from Captain Curphy, of the Fiona, which has arrived at Grafton, reporting that he had spoken the steamer Southern Cross, from New Caledonia to Sydney, off the Solitaries; she was disabled, and wished to be reported to the steamtug company at Newcastle to keep a look out for her. The Cross was making good way to the southward when Captain Curphy left her.

The cargo of the Ballina (s.) consists of 1730 bags maize, 112 hides, 5 packages eggs, 2 coops fowls, 6 horses, 50 pigs, and sundries. Crossed the Macleay bar out at 7 p.m. on the 12th instant, and arrived at the wharf at Sydney at 8.30 p.m. on the 13th.

The Wreck of the S. M. Stetson.—The report of the stranding of the American barque S. M. Stetson at Howe Island, and the arrival of three of the crew in an open boat, has already been made public. We are now advised that Mr. E. Williams, the United States Consul in this city, has entered into a contract with Captain Amora, of the smart little schooner Esperanza, to proceed with dispatch to the island and bring to this port the remaining portion of the Stetson's crew. She will leave on Monday evening, or as soon as practicable, with provisions, &c. Captain Amora has received instructions to have the crew in Sydney before the departure of the next outgoing San Francisco mail. Captain Amora, having been an old trader in the locality, feels sanguine of being enabled to carry out the desires of the American Consul considerably within the allotted time, and she being a very smart craft, there is every reason to presume that he will accomplish the task.

Raising the Priscilla—Death of a Diver.—On Saturday morning, whilst the operations in raising the sunken ketch Priscilla were nearly completed, two chains having been made fast to her hull, one of the divers, Thomas Nicholls, who had been brought from Sydney, took suddenly ill. He had been down several times that morning, and had come to the surface for the last time at half-past 10 o'clock. Half-an-hour later he complained of a pain in the head, and went to lie down. His mate, Mr. Williamson, informed Mr. P. Oldham that Nicholls was liable to convulsive fits, and as that gentleman noticed that he was getting very ill, he buoyed up the chains, and at great expense abandoned operations, the ketch Annie proceeding with the sick man to Three-hut Point, hoping to find Dr. Daldy there, but that gentleman being absent, the vessel's head was turned to town, but was becalmed in the river all night. The deceased was found to be dead yesterday morning; he was not seen to expire, having apparently only been in a sound sleep. The vessel arrived in port at 6 p.m., and the body was conveyed to the hospital, where it awaits an inquest. We understand that the deceased had been warned by several medical officers in Sydney that if he continued to follow his calling as a diver it would prove fatal. He was 43 years of age, and leaves a wife and seven children. Mr. Oldham will return to the wreck as soon as the inquest is over, and as the chains are well fast expects to raise the vessel without much difficulty. He deserves great commendation for his action in regard to this matter.—Hobart Town Tribune, April 9.

The Cases of Small-pox on Board the Ship British Enterprise.—This vessel, which arrived off the semaphore in St. Vincent's Gulf, on the 4th instant, was placed in quarantine by the Adelaide authorities, as cases of small-pox were reported on board. The Register says:—The facts of the case really are that seven mild cases of small-pox occurred during the voyage. The complaint, which was early manifested, was for some time confined to the crew in the forecastle, but eventually one of the single girls was found to be ailing, and the symptoms proved that she had contracted the infection. All the patients were rigorously isolated as far as circumstances permitted, and every precaution was taken to prevent the spread of the contagion. One patient only, a sailor, died. At the time of the arrival of the vessel in port there were but two of the remaining small-pox patients who were not convalescent, namely, the woman and the steward. The former was recovering, but the latter was seriously ill. The voyage throughout seems to have been a singularly unfortunate one as far as the health of those on board has been concerned. First the small-pox broke out amongst the crew, then followed measles, scarlatina, and whooping-cough amongst the passengers. From all causes the number of deaths have been ten. It may be inferred from the nature of the disorders that, with the exception of the small-pox patient, the victims would most probably be children; but of this—owing to the fact that the only communication with the vessel which is permitted is oral, and that from a distance—the particulars to hand are not very definite. The strictest quarantine is to be maintained, so that it will probably be some time before we shall obtain full information of the particulars of the voyage. The provisions are put on board in the following way:—The star-board foretopmast studding boom was rigged out, and from its extremity a long warp reached to one of the ship's boats, which hung far away clear of her side. Into this boat provisions and stores are put and then hauled alongside.

The Sydney Morning Herald.

SATURDAY, APRIL 14, 1877.

We learn from the Queensland Press that the Imperial assent has been withheld from the Gold-fields Act Amendment Bill, passed last session by the Queensland Legislature, but reserved by the Governor of the colony. We further learn, from an article in the Brisbane Courier of the 31st ultimo, that the action of the Imperial Government is resented—by some, at least—as an unwarrantable interference with the right of colonial Legislatures to regulate colonial affairs. The Courier regards the question raised, as "at least as much an Australian question as a Queensland question," and therefore postpones "the discussion of it for the present, waiting to see how far the older colonies will accept Lord Carnarvon's interpretation of Australian legislative independence." The writer, in fact, considers the position assumed by the Imperial Government with respect to the Australian Legislatures as being "as unprecedented as unexpected," and "incompatible with the relations which, since the concession of responsible government, have been understood to subsist between these colonies and the mother country." "It has always been held that under the Constitutions of the Australian colonies the people of this country were as free to regulate their own internal concerns, and to govern themselves by the authority of their own Parliaments as their fellow-countrymen who remain at home in England are." And the argument is that inasmuch as the Gold-fields Act Amendment Bill was entirely a bill to regulate internal concerns of the colony, the disallowance of it was clearly an interference with the unquestionable powers of the Queensland Legislature.

The weak point in the argument is that it takes for granted the very thing that is in issue. A Gold-fields Act Amendment Bill would seem from its title to be a bill dealing with matters of purely internal and local interest. But was the Imperial Government bound by the title of the bill, and deprived thereby of the right to consider its effect, and, indeed, its obvious purpose? If the bill was wrongly disallowed in England, it was wrongly reserved by the Governor in the colony. But the Governor reserved it because he saw that it meant far more than its title purported to mean. It was nominally a bill for the regulation of the internal question of gold-mining. It was really a bill affecting the external relations of the colony—and, therefore, of the Empire—with the people of China. On that ground it was reserved, and on that ground, we doubt not, it was disallowed.

The Courier says that the bill violated no treaties between Great Britain and China. Upon that point we are not prepared at the moment to express a positive opinion. But that point is not essential to the consideration of the question. Even if no treaty were violated, the fact would remain that the external relations of a portion of the Empire would have been shaped and determined by the subordinate Legislature, although the foreign policy of the Empire in all its parts is peculiarly within the province of Imperial authority.

Whether treaties would or would not have been violated it can hardly be disputed that the bill, if it had not been disallowed, would have been productive of this general effect. As much is to be implied from the Courier's own arguments. "We are not only left," says the writer, "facing the Chinese difficulty, without any effectual power of dealing with it." "The right of the Imperial Government to deprive us of all control of Chinese immigration is at least as much an Australian question as a Queensland one." These expressions are enough to show that the bill, which was professedly for the purpose of regulating gold-mining, was really intended to serve as an effectual means of controlling and limiting the influx of immigrants from China. It was a bill to raise additional revenue from the Chinese on the gold-fields, and in support of it there was the colourable excuse that the presence of the Chinese on the gold-fields involved an additional outlay for the maintenance of law and order. But after all it was a bill which had for its distinguishing feature the placing of the Chinese upon a footing different from that on which immigrants from other countries were placed, and, although the bill would have operated directly upon the Chinese residing in the colony only, it would indirectly have placed upon immigration from China a check which was not put upon immigration from other countries.

Now, without endeavouring here to minimise the Chinese difficulty, or the gravity of the issues which it has raised in connection with the future of Queensland, our object is to point out that the differential treatment of the subjects of any particular country in any part of the British Empire is an encroachment upon the foreign policy of the Imperial Government. If it be granted, for argument's sake, that the Australian colonies are in special danger from their comparative proximity to China, it does not follow that, as dependencies, they have the right to take the law into their own hands, and compromise the Government of the Empire for their own protection. As dependencies they have a claim upon the Imperial Government to exercise guardianship over their interests, but so long as they are only parts of the Empire, it is the part that must be governed by the whole, not the whole by the part. We see the same thing in the United States, where the external relations with China are not determined by the Legislature of California, but by the policy of the Union.

Besides being intended to act indirectly as a check upon Chinese immigration, the bill had for its direct object the raising of revenue from the Chinese population who at present contribute scarcely anything towards the expenses of the State. Consuming the smallest possible quantity of dutiable goods, and trading for the most part for such things as they require with their own countrymen, who import them from their own country, they have hardly a pretence to the title of colonists. They give no support to industry, no stimulus to trade. They exist for the purpose of transferring the gold of Queensland to China; and the profits that are incidental to the process are carried to China also. They do not even leave their bones behind to fertilize the ground. It is natural that the Queensland Government should desire to compel them to make some substantial return for the privileges they enjoy; and it was partly for this purpose that special charges were imposed upon the Chinese on the gold-fields by the bill of last session. If we remember rightly, the special imposition was masked by the use of the term "Asiatics" instead of "Chinese;" but the differential character of the impost was obvious, and it was this which brought the bill under disallowance by the Imperial Government. A tariff imposing special duties of Customs on goods imported from Asia, or from America, or from any other quarter of the globe, or country would have been treated in just the same way.

But a handsome revenue might have been obtained from the Chinese; or in default it might have been made so little worth their while to mine for gold on the poorer diggings that they would not have flocked into the colony as they have been doing by thousands. If the Queensland Legislature had never abolished the gold export duty, or had now the courage to reimpose it, the situation would be very different from what it is. The abolition of the export duty on gold was a reckless throwing away of revenue which might have been collected without hardship to the miner of British or American origin, and would have been at least some return from the "Asiatics" for the gains they got from the colony. If the collection of the duty had wholly stopped the working of those poor gold-fields where none but Chinese can earn a subsistence, no loss would have accrued; and although it would have diminished in some degree the profits upon richer ground, worked by other races, the effect would only have been to throw labour into other channels in which it would probably have found more beneficial employment. But the Chinese question, in its broad sense, is an international one, and not to be settled by indirect methods, the defence of which is made to rest on the representation that they deal only with matters of colonial internal policy.

The certainty that New South Wales will become one of the great coal-producing countries of the world gives us an interest in watching the same industry elsewhere, especially in the mother country, where it has achieved its greatest dimensions. In a recent number of the Times there is an instructive statistical article dealing with the growth of this industry in England, and especially with its extraordinary development during the last four years. Previous to the great stimulus given to the trade in 1873, the production of coal had advanced rapidly, though irregularly. In 1816 it amounted to 20,000,000 tons, in 1873 it had reached 125,000,000. Then there came what is known as the coal famine. This short supply, with a consequent rapid rise in price, was due to two causes—first, an increase in the demand; secondly, a diminution in the supply. The former was due to the increase in manufacturing industry, especially in the iron industry, and also to an increase in the foreign demand to supply the great markets where steamships rendezvous. The diminution was to some extent due to legislation, and partly to the action of trades' unions. The Mines Regulation Act limited the hours of labour to fifty-four per week, but it did this not directly, but indirectly. The limitation applied only to boys under sixteen years of age; but as boys perform certain light duties that are essential to the regular work of the mine, when they knock off work all the employees must knock off too. The result was a diminution of twenty-two hours' work in a fortnight; and the writer estimates the reduced production from this cause at 10 per cent. In addition to this, he states that there was increased idleness and irregularity on the part of the miners.

This diminution of production, together with the increased demand, gave an enormous stimulus to the opening out of new mines and the employment of new hands. The stimulus was, to a large extent, an unnatural one, and suffered a collapse; but for a time it seemed as if everybody who owned a coal-field, or who leased one, was on the high road to an enormous fortune. Nine collieries were leased on royalties never heard of before, and great expense was gone to in boring to greater depths in new districts. "Coals," says the Times, "were believed to be the modern philosopher's stone; a source of wealth more abundant and certain than the treasures of Golconda. A frenzy took hold of the people who were wont to be satisfied with the sweet simplicity of 3 per cents; and although the delirium was of short duration, it lasted sufficiently long to prove to the many that it was not easy to recover money sunk in a hole." The consequence of this mining mania was, that whereas in 1871 there were only 2885 collieries in Great Britain, there were in 1875 no fewer than 3933, or an increase of 1048. Two results followed this great increase in the opening out of subterranean wealth. One was that some of the new collieries cut out the old ones, and though there was a general increase in the production all over the kingdom, there was a very marked decrease in some collieries, and in some of the counties. The gain therefore was by no means evenly distributed amongst colliery proprietors, and in fact the gain to some was evidently a loss to others. The general result, however, was to increase the output of coal from 117,000,000 tons to 131,000,000 tons; but this increase was not proportionate to the quantity of new capital, and the quantity of extra labour thrown into the business.

A great rush on any particular industry may seem for a time to be an indication of great prosperity and rapidly accumulating wealth. This appearance is often delusive. When every man looks after himself, he does not sufficiently study what his neighbour is also doing; and it often happens that a hundred rush in where there is only room for ten, or a thousand where there is only room for a hundred. The writer to whom we are referring says that it is utterly impossible to get any information as to the amount of new capital that has been sunk in Great Britain in the production of coal during the last four years, because the cost of opening out a colliery may range from £10,000 to £100,000; but it is very clear that the opening out of a thousand collieries must have absorbed a very large amount of capital, and it is equally clear that there is no increase in the trade at all proportionate to the increase in the capacity of production. To increase the number of collieries by one-fourth, and to increase the production by only one-seventh, is obviously to establish a disproportion. Individual speculators may have made a hit, but a good many must have been disappointed. The economist who studies the movement of the national capital on a large scale, would not fail to see that every industrial mania which leads to a precipitate investment of capital is a national loss. A market may rise rapidly and may fall as rapidly, and if it tempts capital to an extent disproportionate to the duration of the high price, it tempts it to its loss. Meanwhile the general result is enormously to increase the producing power of English collieries; and as most of them may be expected to work as long as they can work at a profit at all, the production may be expected to keep up and the export to go on, and perhaps the price to fall.

After the protracted negotiations of European diplomatists it is somewhat startling to learn by telegram that war is regarded as inevitable. We may presume that the message gives the opinion of the day, but there have been so many oscillations in public expectation that we cannot attach much weight to prognostications which have been incessantly falsified. The Turkish rulers have certainly been neglectful of the maxim which recommends that a bridge of gold should be built for a retreating foe. Russia has been remarkably inactive since the failure of the Conference, and has shown an anxiety for European concert far beyond what was expected. This has, perhaps, been due to her financial difficulties as much as to regard for public opinion. But the more conciliatory Russia has been, the more obstinate has the Government of the Porte become. It has rejected the Protocol, repudiated any interference with the internal affairs of Turkey, and, it would now appear, has insisted upon Russia disarming before it will discuss the question of reducing its own establishments to a peace footing. That is stronger ground than the Porte has ever taken up yet, and looks as if the intention were to force on, or at any rate to defy, a war at once. It has cost immense sums to equip the Turkish fleet and army, and supply the arsenals with war material; the strain upon the national credit and resources is severe and cannot be kept up long. Believing that they are at present better prepared for war than Russia, and that time will be against them, what wonder that the Ottoman counsellors wish to bring matters to an immediate issue! The fortune of war so far has been in their favour, and they have been clever enough to make the most of this advantage in the Council-chamber. By a sudden blow they may be able to subjugate the revolted provinces, "make a desert, and call it peace," and insure tranquillity for a further term by almost depopulating the disturbed territories. But the history of Russia proves that it will not be safe to presume too much upon her present embarrassments. When Moscow was in flames, an invading army of half a million in the heart of the empire, the national exchequer empty, and the country apparently prostrate, Russia hurled back the hitherto invincible armies of Napoleon. The "hug of the bear" is most to be dreaded in the hour of extremity and almost despair. The Crimean war was another proof of the dogged perseverance which lies in the Muscovite character, and which so long kept at bay the combined strength of four nations. The difficulties of Russia are but temporary; the territory has immense resources as yet undeveloped, but sure to grow with time. If the rest of Europe should be content to stand by and let the Ottoman and the Muscovite fight it out to the bitter end, there can be little doubt what that end will be; but there is one power that must interfere sooner or later in the event of war. The interests of the colonial Empire of Great Britain will compel her to keep guard over the Bosphorus and the Nile. The city of Constantine and the city of Alexander must be open to the flags of all nations for the free commerce of the world, either in British hands or with a guaranteed independence. It may be that the time for this issue has not yet arrived, and that the black clouds which appear on the political horizon will be scattered by the breath of diplomacy again. But the suspense cannot last long, for it makes peace almost as costly as war. For the present the strong battalions and the best commanded will win the day, on whichever side that advantage may happen to lie; but no settlement can be final that is not based upon international justice, and consistent with the just claims of the populations.

Death by Drowning.—A sad fatal accident by drowning occurred at about half-past ... o'clock yesterday morning, near St. Peter's. A boy named Charles Slade, eight years of age, son of Charles Slade, a carpenter, residing on the Cook's River Road, St. Peters, was drowned in a well on his father's premises. It appears that his sister, a little girl of about eleven years of age, was in the yard with him at the time of the accident, and saw him fall into the well. She immediately gave the alarm, and her mother, with the assistance of some neighbours, took the body out of the water, and endeavoured to restore animation, but without success. Dr. Watson, of Newtown, who attended shortly after, pronounced life extinct. An inquest will be held this morning.

District Court.—Monday, April 16. — Jury Causes: Phelps v. Fairfax, M'Rickards and another v. Curran.

St. Andrew's Cathedral. — Order of musical service for Sunday, 15th April:—Magnificat, Kempton in B; Nunc Dimittis, La Trobe in D; Anthem, "Judge me, O God," Mendelssohn.

Exhibition Lecture.—Arrangement was made for Mr. H. Lennon, agricultural implement manufacturer, Melbourne, to deliver a lecture on "Ploughs and Ploughing," at the Exhibition yesterday afternoon, but it being considered that a large number of stockowners and farmers would be present next week, the lecture has been postponed until half-past seven o'clock on Friday, the 20th instant.

The Lapsed Vote of £10,000.—A deputation, consisting of the Mayor, Aldermen O'Connor, Chapman, Moore, and the Town-clerk, waited on the Colonial Treasurer, yesterday, to request him to place the lapsed vote of £10,000 on the Additional Estimates. The Mayor said they were deputed to do so by the Municipal Council. The amount was not applied for in the usual manner, and their desire was to have the amount revoted this year. They were very short of money just now, and the amount would be a valuable acquisition to their funds. He hoped it would be the last time they would go to the Government cap in hand. They looked to the present Government with a great deal of confidence, and hoped to see them introduce a bill giving the Corporation all the powers and endowments they were entitled to. The late Government, knowing the lowness of the city funds, at one time anticipated the vote of Parliament, and placed the £10,000 to the credit of the City bank-account before it was given, and he would like to know if the same could not be done in the present instance. Alderman Moore pointed out that the bills referred to by the Mayor had been prepared, and were ready for the Government if they would try to have them passed this session. Mr. Piddington, in reply, said that, with respect to the application for the £10,000, there was a minute made by his predecessor that it could not be placed to the credit of the city banking account until it was submitted to Parliament on the Additional Estimates and revoted. That was because Mr. Stuart had taken credit for the amount in ways and means as part of his revenue. Up to the last two or three years the Government had put an embargo on the vote, but latterly gave it to the city. It could not be placed to the credit of the city account at once, but for his own part he might state that the present Government would place no obstacle in the way of putting it on the Additional Estimates and getting it voted. As a citizen he would be happy to find that the Council had prepared a measure to deal with municipal affairs, but he had not seen it yet, although he heard it was ready. His assistance, however small, and that of the Government, he thought, would be lent to pass any bill improving the interests of the city, and he was sure nothing unreasonable would be asked. For a long time he had been in favour of conferring greater powers on the city, and the right to charge Government property with its fair share of taxes for water-supply and other matters. The Estimates, however, had not been passed yet, and the carrying of any municipal measures this session was a critical question; at the same time they should receive as much and as early attention as possible. He would just minute on the Town-clerk's letter that the sum of £10,000 would be placed on the Additional Estimates. The deputation then thanked Mr. Piddington for his courtesy, and withdrew.

Mining Board.—The Mining Board met yesterday, pursuant to adjournment, the following members being present:—Messrs. Thompson (chairman), Baker (secretary), Roman, Mongan, W. Brown, Sweeney, Burns, De Courcy Brown, Eddy, Griffin, and Copeland. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed. The secretary reported that the Executive Committee had adopted a letter to the Minister for Mines in reference to the conservation of auriferous lands. The Board ordered that the letter, which was read, should be published. A discussion followed, in a conversational way, as to the necessity of making a call of the Board to amend the regulations, or of merely making such alterations as could be made by supplementary regulations, without a call. The regulations were discussed, several grievances being pointed out; but the opinion generally expressed was that they were very satisfactory, and that the grievances complained of by the miners would be found, on inquiry, to arise out of the Act and not out of the regulations. Ultimately Mr. Baker proposed, with a view to a definite conclusion being arrived at, that a call of the Board be made for the 30th instant. The proposal was negatived, only three members of the Board (Messrs. Baker, Griffin, and Sweeney) voting for it. Mr. Copeland suggested that, now they had a new Minister for Mines and a new Government, it would be advisable to urge upon the Minister to deal with the question of mining on commons for the purpose of legalizing titles. A deputation was appointed to wait upon the Minister for Mines to bring under his notice this and other matters. The Board then adjourned until half-past 10 o'clock on Monday next.

Assessment Appeals.—Appeals against the supplementary assessments for city and water rates will be heard at the Darlinghurst Court-house on Monday next, at 10 o'clock.

St. Jude's, Randwick.—The churchwardens appointed for the above church for this year are—trustees', Mr. S. H. Pearce; people's, Mr. G. Kiss; clergyman's, Mr. J. Barling.

Lifeboat Band of Hope, Woolloomooloo.—The usual monthly meeting in connection with the above was held on Monday evening last, the 9th instant, in the Baptist Church, Bourke-street. The chair was occupied by the president, the Rev. F. Hibberd. The meeting was addressed by the chairman, Mr. Shearston (secretary of the Woollahra Band of Hope), and Mr. Bosworth (one of the city missionaries). The speeches, which were well to the point, were listened to most attentively. The dangers connected with the drinking customs, as well as the advantages accruing from habits of temperance, were clearly defined. The members gave a number of appropriate recitations, which were rendered very creditably. The proceedings were considerably enlivened by the introduction of several musical selections at intervals during the evening. Several names were added to the roll, and the meeting was brought to a close about 9 o'clock.

Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society.—Messrs. W. C. Goddard and Co., the Sydney agents of this society, have received from the chief office an intimation that the usual annual meeting of the proprietors had been held, and that the operations of the society had been so satisfactory as to justify the directors in declaring a dividend of 75 per cent., in lieu of 66 per cent. paid for some years past. The shares of the society, the original price of which was £30, are now quoted at £370.

Assault and Robbery.—About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, Francis Puttman, an engineer, residing at Pyrmont, was crossing the bridge when he was suddenly attacked from behind; he was caught at the back of his neck, and "somehow twisted over," and thrown to the ground; was held down by the throat, while a woman robbed him of his watch and a few shillings in silver. He is under the impression that two men were present, but is not certain. The thieves so held him that he was unable to [illegible] the face of either.

Accident at St. Leonards.—About half-past [illegible] o'clock last evening a lady was hurrying to the Milson's Point ferry, when she suddenly fell over some very large pieces of iron that had been carelessly left in the footpath by the labourers of the Borough Council at St. Leonards. She [illegible] heavily on her face and side, sustaining [illegible] and producing internal injuries. Judging from the [illegible] she fell, it is remarkable that her injuries were [illegible]. We are informed that scarcely two [illegible] pass without some one meeting with an injury on this road. [illegible] road and footpath. But at night, unfortunately, the placards cannot be seen. It is the footpath of the main street, and is admittedly a disgrace to the borough.

Reorganization of the Grand Lodge of I. O. Good Templars, New South Wales.—On Wednesday, 11th instant, at 10 a.m., a special session of loyal members met at the Temperance Hall, Pitt-street, Sydney. The meeting was convened by the Deputy R.W. Grand Templar Brother Percy Gibson, acting under instructions and commission direct from the R. W. G. Lodge Executive. The following representatives were present—Brothers Rev. R. Rodgers, Ryall, Atkins, Norwood, Toms, Rickard, jun., Torning, West, Welton, also Brothers Kennedy, M'Leod, Davis, and other loyal members of the Order, including a fair sprinkling of sisters from the city and country lodges. After formally opening the proceedings, and a short but earnest debate as to the best means to be adopted to induce seceding brethren to return to their allegiance and work, it was resolved, "That a deputation be appointed to wait upon our brethren now in session assembled. The said deputation to fully explain our position and intentions." The deputation (Brothers Rev. R. Rodgers, Norwood, Ryall, Gibson, and Atkins) were very favourably received, and after a patient hearing withdrew. This closed the proceedings of the first day. On Thursday, 12th instant, the session was resumed, when an answer to the deputation was received and read agreeing with the desirability of reunion, but deferring such action till the two supreme bodies should have met. As this would involve a delay of some months, and seriously interfere with the efficient working of the Loyal Lodges, it was resolved to proceed at once to reorganize the Grand Lodge, and take the necessary steps to place sub-lodges in proper working order, issue the necessary pass-words, &c. The following officers were duly elected:—G.W.C. Templar, Br. Norwood; G.W. Counsellor, Br. Kennedy; G.W.U.T., Br. J. J. Atkins; G.W S., Br. Gibson; G.W. Chaplain, Br. A. Allen; G.W. Marshal, Br M'Kinnon; Guard Br. Parson; G. Sent., Br. West. As the session had extended over a period of two days, and country friends wished to return to their respective homes, it was decided to close the session, not, however, without sincere regret that the efforts made to secure a return of seceding brethren to the Order had failed. The special thanks of the Grand Lodge was tendered to worthy Br. Rev. R. Rodgers for the valuable assistance rendered during the trying circumstances of the session, and regret expressed that he should refuse to accept any official position. After singing the doxology the session was formally closed at 10.30 p.m., Thursday, 12th April.

Sales of Fat Stock.—Messrs. G. M. Pitt and Co. report having sold, on account of the Australian Agricultural Company, 500 fat bullocks, delivered on their Warrah station, Liverpool Plains, at £9 per head cash.—Mr. W. Fullagar reports having sold for Mr. B. Richards 183 head of cattle, at an average of £7 18s. 4d. each; also, for Mr. G. Hart, 100 head mixed, at an average of £5 18s. 6d. each.

Latest Scratchings for Amateur Turf Club Races.—Democrat, Tradition, and Terrara, Coogee Stakes; Formosa, Sapling Handicap; Disraeli, Ladies' Bag.

San Francisco Mails for Victoria.—We learn that the Postmaster-General has been in communication with the Postmaster-General of Victoria in reference to the transmission overland of the European mails for Victoria received via San Francisco. These mails have heretofore been dispatched from Sydney by whatever opportunity offered—usually by steamer—but a negotiation entered into with Messrs. Cobb and Co., the contractors, by the Postmaster-General of this colony, has resulted in an arrangement being concluded under which the letter portion of the San Francisco mail, for Melbourne, will, in future, be forwarded overland by express coach from Bowning if required, or by the regular coach to Gundagai, and an express coach therefrom to catch the morning train from Wodonga for Melbourne, the cost of the express coaches being borne by the Melbourne Post Office. The effect of this arrangement will be that the San Francisco letter mails for Melbourne, leaving here by the ordinary 5 p.m. train, will reach Melbourne on the afternoon of the second day.

Property Lost in Public Vehicles.—It ought to be generally known that all property found in cabs and omnibuses must be given by the finder to the driver or conductor, who must forward it to the office of the Transit Commissioners within eighteen hours. As there are a great many visitors from the country present in Sydney just now, it is as well that they should be advised of this. A woman going to the Exhibition on Thursday found a cheque in the omnibus which was conveying her thither, but she refused to give it up to two Transit Commissioners' inspectors, who demanded it from her. The inspectors followed her into the Exhibition grounds, where they invoked the aid of a constable, and then, to avoid going to the police-station, the woman gave up the cheque. The owner advertised for his cheque in yesterday's Herald, and Mr. Oram has written to him informing him that he may recover it on applying at the Commissioners' office.

Sydney Infirmary.—The following cases have been received for treatment: James Griffin, 37, a cut on the forehead; Effie Robson, 12, injury to the elbow-joint; John Carrick, 16, a cut on the hand; Thomas M'Adam, 33, whose face had been scalded; John O'Keefe, 41, injury to the foot; William Boyd, 8, fracture of arm; Arthur Jones, 14, fracture of arm; John J. Nowland, injured hand.

Municipality for Canterbury.—A very numerously attended meeting of the principal landowners and other persons interested was held on Wednesday evening, at the Rising Sun Hotel, Canterbury. Dr. Tucker (of Cook's River) occupied the chair. Mr. W. C. Renwick (the convener of the meeting) moved the adoption of the following petition: — "To his Excellency the Governor and the Executive Council. The petition of the undersigned residents and landowners of Canterbury humbly showeth—1. That a petition in which they are interested, for the creation of a municipality to be called the municipal district of Canterbury, has been published in the Government Gazette, and that the boundaries therein set forth include the area in which your petitioners reside. 2. That your petitioners are of opinion that the area comprised in the petition for incorporation is too large for the population contained in it, and that if granted, from the conflicting interests of persons residing in the north and those located in the south portions embraced within it, would prove altogether unworkable and cause endless disagreements in the management of the municipality. 3. That certain of your petitioners signed the petition for incorporation in ignorance of the boundaries and under misapprehension of the object the petition had in view, and now desire to recall their consent and withdraw their names from same." The resolution was seconded by Mr. Wiley. Mr. F. Clissold then moved the following amendment, viz.:—"That the district be formed into a municipality with the boundaries as set forth in the petition sent in to the Executive Council," which was seconded by Mr. Gelding. Mr. Wren very ably addressed the meeting in favour of the resolution, which was carried by a large majority. Captain O'Hagan then moved,—"That the chairman be requested to forward the foregoing resolutions to the Hon. the Colonial Secretary with the petition when signed." After a few remarks from Mr. D. Holborrow, J.P., Mayor of Ashfield, respecting the working of municipalities, the chair was taken by that gentleman, and a vote of thanks was awarded to Dr. Tucker for his conduct as chairman, and also for the active interest he has taken in the improvement of the roads since he has been a member of the Canterbury Road Trust. Dr. Tucker briefly acknowledged the compliment, and the meeting terminated.

Rain in the Lachlan District.—A correspondent writes:—"As no notice appears in any of the papers respecting the late heavy rains which have fallen in the above district, I would beg to make public the welcome intelligence that very heavy rains have visited the country north of the Lachlan River, especially in the country extending towards the Cobar Mines, every dam and tank has been filled, many of the former carried away, and every creek and watercourse filled to overflowing. This country, which could not be utilised during the summer through the dry weather, can now be stocked, as feed is abundant all over it. The Priory Plains, and adjoining country, are magnificent. All feed out that way is rich and nutritious, and on the whole a rare opportunity to owners of back blocks."

Statesmen and their Sponsors.—In yesterday's Echo appears the following:—"Who is the best authority as to a statesman's opinions and practice—the man himself, or a friend sixteen thousand miles away, who undertakes to speak for him? At the Royal Colonial Institute in London, Mr. Forster referred to an article in Frazer's Magazine, in which the writer, illustrating the local jealousies between Sydney and Melbourne, stated that Mr. Robertson, the Prime Minister of New South Wales, was accused of purposely delaying the completion of the railway between Sydney and Melbourne. Mr. Forster undertook, from his intimate knowledge of Mr. Robertson's character and political views, to deny the accusation. This accusation, he said, was not credited by the generality of intelligent persons in Victoria, and probably had its origin in party animosity in New South Wales. In our own Parliament, Mr. Robertson has spoken on the subject for himself, and has defended the non-completion of the trunk line between the two capitals on the ground that our own people ought to have a little more law before giving the Melbourne merchants railway communication with our south-western districts. In this conflict of authorities, which are we to take as the best guide to Mr. Robertson's character and policy—his own official utterances, or the generous but unauthorized guarantee of his friend and late colleague? In deprecating too speedy a connection between Sydney and Melbourne by railway, Mr. Robertson expressed sentiments which prevail in Sydney to a very large extent. There are some who think that the trade of our metropolis may be increased by connecting the Murrumbidgee with Sydney and not connecting it with Melbourne. But it is obvious that, if this is so, it can only be at the cost of the settlers whose trade is thus annexed; and it must be equally obvious that the non-connection between Sydney and Melbourne must be injurious to all who would gain by that connection. The timid and jealous policy therefore which would retard railway communication between the two greatest cities of Australia would only confer the supposed benefit on Sydney by inflicting injury elsewhere. [illegible] it worthy of the Australian metropolis of free trade to encourage such protection to its own interests, and seek to get business otherwise than by deserving it?"

Laying a Telegraph Cable across the Clarence.—An interesting and important public work (says the Examiner) was executed at Grafton on Saturday last, namely, the laying of the cable across the Clarence River to connect us with Sydney by a second line via Glen Innes, which in case of [illegible] accident happening to one line will insure communication by the other. Except the officials and then [illegible] half a dozen others, there was nothing to [illegible] that anything was going on unusual. The cable [illegible] inch circumference, and has been imported by the Government from the Great W[illegible] Company of England. It consists of three copper strands interlaced and coated with gutta percha, rope, and tar. The entire coil weighing about 6 cwt., was on a drum, and lowered from the C. and R. R. S. N. Co.'s Wharf into a ship's boat—under the supervision of Mr. T. Quirk, chief postmaster, and the contractor, Mr. Burns. The boat was then taken up to near the Custom-house, and the line having been connected, the cable was embedded in a trench three feet deep leading down to the river. From thence it was slowly paid off the drum as the boat crossed the river at an angle of about 30 degrees to South Grafton, a distance of nearly 5000 feet. The deepest part of the river did not exceed 24 feet. The line was sunk with leaded weights at distances of from 6 to 10 feet. At South Grafton it was again trenched in the earth up the bank and connected. A lightning arrestor, enclosed in small wooden case, was screwed on to the telegraph pole, but scarcely high enough to be out of the reach of any mischievous person.

The Governor of Western Australia. — The Fremantle correspondent of the Melbourne Age writes on the 28th March: "Governor Robinson has returned from the north, having only proceeded as far as Champion Bay. He has got two months' leave of absence, and is expected to leave by next month's mail for Sydney, on a visit to his brother, Sir Hercules. There are now two men-of-war in harbour, the Nymphe and the Sandfly. The City of Hobart, steamship, has been to the Lacepede Islands, but cannot obtain sufficient coal to return to them. A large barque has brought on some for her, but not enough. The Rob Roy is at Albany, where she arrived on the 26th instant. The health of the colony is good. It has so far escaped the small-pox."

Accident to the Pumping Machinery at the Burra Mine.—A very serious accident, fortunately unattended with bodily injury to any person, is related in the Burra News. On the 3rd instant, about 4.20 a.m., the second length of the rod broke about six or eight fathoms down, and, to use the mining phrase, "the engine came indoors." The bob of the pump is of cast iron, and weighs nearly 30 tons. Of course when the rod parted a tremendous weight was taken off the outer end of the bob—the shaft being 85 fathoms deep—and the inner end came down with terrific force. The hornplate struck the spring beams with great violence and broke each of them right through. The beams are of sound timber 2 feet 10 inches deep by 14½ inches wide, and in addition to the fracture by the hornplate they are also broken near the bearing wall. The bearings of the bob were lifted about two inches out of place. The concussion must have been tremendous owing to the great weight of the machinery, and it is fortunate the damage is no greater than it is. The piston came violently down in the cylinder, and is cracked in several places, but it can be repaired, the weight of the blow having been sustained by the spring beams. Fortunately the engine-house was strengthened about a month ago, otherwise it would probably have needed partially rebuilding. Owing to the accumulation of water in the mine all underground work has had to be suspended; in fact, it may be said the only work doing on the mine is the repairing of the damage.

An Escapee Liberated on a Technical Point.—At the sittings of the Melbourne General Sessions for February (says the Daily Telegraph), a man named Henry Francis Morton Desmond was charged with escaping from legal custody in February, 1871. At the time of his escape he was employed on public works at Williamstown, and he was undergoing cumulative sentences, amounting in all to five years, for felonies committed in the Ballarat district, at which he was tried and sentenced on the 3rd February, 1871. Prisoner's counsel contended at the trial in February last that the prisoner was not legally in custody at the time of his escape, as the warrant under which he was detained did not set forth the sentence upon which one sentence was cumulative upon another. Judge Cope reserved the point for the Supreme Court, and, subject to it, directed a verdict of guilty to be recorded. The prisoner was liberated on bail. On Thursday the point was argued. Mr. Molesworth appeared for the prisoner, who was in Court, and Mr. B. O'Loghlen for the Crown. After hearing arguments, the Court ruled that the objection was good, and quashed the conviction.

The Chignon and the Highheeled Boot.—M. Charles Blanc has written a capital essay (one of a number which first appeared in the Gazette des Beaux Arts) on the above as ornaments of dress. He does not object to either in very strong terms. Of the chignon he says:—"In the fifteenth century, when French ladies wore those huge, pointed head-dresses called hennin, its mere inclination, without saying anything of its shape, detached it completely from the rest of the body, the natural proportions of which were not altered by it, because the hennin was simply an ornament, evidently intended as a decoration for the head, and easily separated from it in imagination. In the present day, on the contrary, women make with their own, or their false hair, a structure all of a piece, so clumsy, so voluminous, that, in spite of the most elementary laws of human proportion, the head becomes the fifth, and sometimes the fourth part of their whole person!" The high-heeled boot is thus spoken of:—Another method of diminishing the natural importance of the foot, and of giving it greater delicacy of appearance, is by placing a large ornament upon the instep; for instance, the satin and lace bows, the most coquettish trick in the Louis XIII. and the Louis XVI. shoes. But the high heels, if they have the advantage of accentuating the arch of the instep, have the inconvenience of distorting a woman's walk, forcing her to beat time with her steps, like a soldier in the ranks. A dancer walking on the tips of her toes gives herself a momentary grace by the suppression of her feet, and an elegant woman, by raising herself upon high heels, shortens her feet, because the sole of her foot forms with the leg a very open angle instead of a right angle." M. Blanc (says the Athenæum) deals in his Introduction with the general laws of ornament, and the elements regulated by them, with repetition, alternation, symmetry, progression, and confusion, as employed with more or less art in the adornment, in the French sense of the term, of the human figure. His book ought certainly to be studied by ladies whose education in matters of taste has been neglected, or is, from whatever cause, in a backward state. More cultivated observers will find much worth reading in the light and graceful treatise, but combined with no small proportion of truisms so trite that it seems hardly needful to repeat them to any intelligent woman who ever bought a pair of gloves or a yard of ribbon.

Pioneer Engineering.—Mr. E. Dobson, C.E., has written a treatise on the engineering operations connected with the settlement of waste lands in new countries, which is reviewed at some length in the Athenæum of February 10. In speaking of the sites chosen for towns, he remarks that they are frequently determined by special circumstances, with which the engineer has nothing to do, "arising, for the most part, out of the necessities of traffic—a landing-place, a ford, a ferry, the confluence of two navigable rivers. Each and all of these circumstances have been repeatedly made the centres round which traffic has gathered, until a town became a necessity. What follows from the usual neglect of proper professional forethought is illustrated by the case of Hokitika, on the west coast of New Zealand, where streets were laid out, and hotels and warehouses built, on a wide sandspit, through which, not many months after, was the principal entrance of the Hokitika river; while the permanent township was subsequently located in a peat-swamp, between the beach and the main land, below the level of spring tides, subject to be laid under water at every fresh, and liable in a dry season to burn to the depth of many feet if but a spark be dropped in the unmetalled streets. So, again, Greymouth, at the mouth of the River Grey, is located below the ordinary flood level, and is periodically under water. Again, Gundagai, in New South Wales, is a township which was laid out by Government in contempt of the information furnished by natives to the effect that the site was subject to inundation; the whole town was subsequently destroyed by a severe flood."—Mr. Dobson (says the reviewer) has not only taken a sound view of the functions of the engineer in newly-peopled countries, but he has made a substantial contribution towards the professional education of those called to occupy such a position. His work may be thought somewhat scanty in detail, and didactic in tone; but these literary defects are not to be regarded as practical drawbacks. To attend to scale is the first requisite in any work intended for instruction; and Mr. Dobson has been both judicious in his choice of scale for his book, and consistent in working up to that scale. Commencing by a description of survey work, he has brought out, more clearly than we can remember any practical teacher to have done elsewhere, the relation between astronomical and geodesic observations.

Cleopatra's Needle.—On the seashore of Alexandria (exclaims the Times) are two giant splinters, which have been hewn out of the rock of rose-coloured syenitic granite from the quarries of Syene, sculptured with inscriptions of three lines of hieroglyphs on each side, and transported from Elephantina to Heliopolis, where the pair stood before the door of the Temple of the God Tum, or the Setting Sun, at that third of the principal cities of Egypt on the Eastern frontier. Hence they were transported in the days of Cleopatra to the Cæsareum, or Temple of Cæsar at Alexandria, and the modern appellation of Cleopatra's Needles retains the memory of their transfer. One of the giants "towering to the skies" has defied for nearly twenty centuries time and the spray of the Mediterranean, the other lies buried in the circumjacent sand, and it is now proposed—as will be seen in the report of the proceedings of the Metropolitan Board of Works in The Times of the 20th of January—to move it from its present place and erect it on a suitable site on the Thames Embankment. It is not the first time that the idea has been started, but the moment has come when it appears nearest to its realization. A private person, who—though it will be difficult for him to prevent it—does not desire his name to be connected with the matter, has shown what is unfortunately a rare example of public generosity by offering to contribute £10,000 for the conveyance of the giant to England. The agreement is signed, and all that remains is to commence the task. London will, therefore, at last have its obelisk. The puny modern specimens (not even monoliths of limestone in Fleet-street and Blackfriars-road) are hardly worthy of the name of obelisk. The removal is to be undertaken by Mr. John Dixon, [illegible] engineer, who, assisted by his brother, Mr. Waynman Dixon, proposes the following means of transporting this shaft of granite.—Sand [illegible] cleared away, and the [illegible] set square parallel with the existing sea wall. An iron cylinder, finished off to its chisel edge, with sufficient diaphragm to give it strength, is to be constructed round the obelisk, which is to lie in the long axis of the cylinder, and to be wedged and cushioned where it passes through the diaphragms so as to divide the cylinder into water-tight compartments. The cylinder is to be [illegible] long and 15 feet diameter, and will have a draught of [illegible] feet of water when afloat. All being riveted water-tight, it will be rolled into the sea and across the sandy bed of the water till it floats. It will then be turned over and the man-holes [illegible] opened, and about 30 tons of ballast to keep the ends vertical, so as to act like stem and stern. It will then have two bilge keels, a rudder, light spar deck, mast, and lug sails attached, and be provided with an anchor and good chain cables, and if necessary, a pump in case of leakage. The cylinder ship will then be fit to go into any port of the world with its freight, and in any weather. The cost of this operation will amount to about £3000. The obelisk in its case will be towed over during the summer months and laid aside the Thames Embankment on a platform properly prepared for the purpose, and lifted high enough to clear the parapet, and the bilge keels and other additions being stripped off, the cylinder will be rolled to the proposed site and then stripped off the obelisk, which will lie ready to be elevated to its pedestal, an operation which will be simply effected by means of a few balks of timber and two small hydraulic rams. The whole cost is not to exceed £10,000, and that of the obelisk at Paris is said to have been £80,000.

A New Terror added to Matrimony. — Sir George Jessel gave an interlocutory decision on February 9, in a case which raises some very important points with regard to the liabilities of those unfortunate persons who happen to be the husbands of married women. It seems that a certain married lady is, among her separate property, possessed of a racehorse, upon which she has given several mortgages. The horse is entered for various races; the mortgagees are pressing for payment; the trainer claims a lien for his expenses; and by way of settling all these conflicting claims, it has been suggested that the horse should be sold, and the proceeds of the sale equitably divided among the claimants. Sir George Jessell, after observing that it was rather an extension of the modern doctrine of female rights for a lady to own racehorses and run them in her own name, went on to declare his conviction that the evidence in the case was so conflicting that he should make no order one way or the other. Upon this a learned counsel, who appeared for the lady's husband, rose up to complain that his client had been made a party to the suit against his express wish; that he knew nothing about his wife's racehorses, and cared less; and that he begged that the application as against himself might be dismissed with costs. The Master of the Rolls replied, from the strict point of view of equity, that the unhappy gentleman was a necessary party; that he was responsible for his wife's acts, and that if the lady sold the horse or otherwise parted with it, he would be liable constructively for her contempt of court, and would have to go to prison accordingly. The learned counsel protested, with some eloquence and at some length, against what he designated as "this new peril of matrimony," but was summarily interrupted by the learned Judge, who told him that if a man chooses to marry a lady who owns racehorses he must take the consequences. This may or may not be the strictly legal view of the case (says the London Observer), but it cannot be questioned that a new terror has been added to matrimony, and it will perhaps in future be as well that a clause should be inserted in every marriage settlement by which the trustees indemnify the husband against any liabilities which his wife may have contracted on the turf while still a spinster.

China as a Market for Australian Wool.—The following correspondence in reference to sending a shipment of wool to China, as a commercial experiment, appeared in the Argus:—"Some time towards the end of last January you were kind enough to publish a letter for me, in which I made a public appeal for co-operation and pecuniary assistance in carrying out an enterprise having for its object the ultimate relief of the European wool market of the enormous surplus which at present has to be withdrawn and carried forward to the next series of sales, to the manifest upsetting of the wisest prognostication, and unsettling all the calculations of the trade. To this public appeal, chiefly intended for the sheepowners of Victoria, I have received two spontaneous replies only, one from Mr. R. Goldsbrough, and the other I received from Mr. Douglas M'Lean, Napier, New Zealand. I may say that I know offers of co-operation have been made to Mr. Goldsbrough by some firms in the trade, but none have come to me from any squatter whatever, except the two I mention. The result sought was to induce the Chinese to use up some portion of our wool by presenting it to them first in the shape of a yarn ready for the loom, to effect which I have the promise of the assistance of an old-established English firm in Shanghai. The scheme was not so utterly wild but that it had the sympathy of a large section of the country papers, which repeatedly advised it having a trial. The trial is being made under the circumstances above stated, and I now invite the Press of the colonies generally to make such comments upon the above facts as may seem good in their own eyes.—Yours, &c., Monckton Synnot. Flinders Wool Warehouse, April 5." The following is Mr. M'Lean's letter:—"Napier, March 24. Sir,—I observe in a letter from you in The Australasian on the subject, 'China as a market for Australian wool,' an invitation to any person willing to take a share of the expense likely to be incurred in sending a trial shipment of yarns to China to communicate with you. Though, I fear, rather late in the day, owing to my not having seen your letter till a few days ago, I write this with a view at any rate of expressing my willingness to have subscribed, or to do so still if called upon, taking, as I do, the liveliest interest in your labour in this direction, and hoping it may prove successful. The subject, I may say, is one which I have also endeavoured to draw attention to in the Press here on more than one occasion. It would seem that the great point is to overcome the prejudices of the Chinese, which once accomplished, would pave the way to the establishment of a splendid market for our wool, a market which in the light of the present enormous and ever increasing supply, seemingly growing out of proportion to demand, it may yet prove a matter of necessity for our woolgrowers to establish.—I remain, &c., Douglas M'Lean. To Mr. Monckton Synnot, Melbourne."

A Multiplicity of Charges.—A young man, named Robinson, was arrested at Williamstown, on Easter Monday night, for creating disturbance; on his way to the station he made his escape with the handcuffs, and was not arrested for some hours afterwards. The next morning three separate charges were brought against him, viz., using obscene language, resisting the police, and "stealing the handcuffs." He was fined for the two first separate sums of £2, but the charge of stealing was withdrawn.

The Massacre of White Men at Benalla in 1838.—"Tuesday (says the North-Eastern Ensign), is the 39th anniversary of the massacre of white men at Benalla by the blacks. About the middle of March in the year 1838 a party under the superintendence of Mr. William Faithfull started from the Goulburn Plains, New South Wales, to travel overland to Melbourne, and arriving at the Broken River, camped on its banks somewhere near the present site of Maginniss's flour mill, on the 9th of April, where they were to await a supply of arms and ammunition from Mr. George Faithfull's party, which was then camped on the Fifteen-mile Creek. Several parties of blacks of different tribes were about in the neighbourhood, and some of these surprised the white camp two days afterwards, and massacred seven out of the fifteen men, the others saving their lives by flight. Two only of the survivors, we believe, are now living; one of these afterwards settled here, and remains still in the 'ancient township,' one of its oldest and first inhabitants. The plains and banks of the Broken River were favourite hunting and camping grounds of the blacks for many years afterwards, but as the white population increased they were driven further afield, and it is now a long time since any of the race have been seen as wanderers in the locality."

Botanic Gardens.—The Head-quarters Band will perform (weather permitting) this day, at 3 p.m., under the direction of Lieutenant Callen. Programme: March, "Sydney," Callen; overture, "Nabucodonosor," Verdi; waltz, "Little Nell," Godfrey; selection, "Crispino e la Comare," Ricci; quadrille, "Grand Duchess," Offenbach; galop, "Excursion Train," Musgrave; "God Save the Queen."

The Australian Blondin's Feat.—Large crowds of spectators are expected in Middle Harbour this afternoon to witness Mr. L'Estrange's performances on the tight rope which crosses Middle Harbour. By advertisement in another column it will be seen that ample steamer accommodation is to be provided, no less than twenty-two boats having been secured by Mr. L'Estrange. His boats will be marked by a distinguishing flag. Other boats will probably run, but we understand that the proprietors and those aboard such boats will be waited upon by Blondin's collector.

Mrs Rosenberg's Concert.—This lady gives her first public concert on Monday evening next, in the Masonic Hall, for which occasion a programme of a very popular and high-class character has been arranged. Mrs. Rosenberg, at her invitation concert, was highly appreciated, and will on Monday appear with Mr. Andrew Fairfax as vocalist, and Herr Kretzschman and M. Meilhan as instrumentalists. The concert is under the patronage of his Excellency the Governor and the Hon. Lady Robinson.

Victoria Theatre.—Last night "Othello" was repeated; but on this occasion Mr. Dampier appeared as Iago, and Mr. Fulford undertook the part of the Moor. Miss Pixley was the Desdemona, and Miss Adelaide Bowring the Emilia. No one, certainly not Mr. Dampier, will object to Mr. Fulford being first mentioned. This young actor certainly took his audience by surprise. It was not doubted that he would do his best, but there was considerable question as to whether the part of Othello was not too heavy for him. However, there was an agreeable disappointment. Mr. Fulford acted exceedingly well. Here and there he over-exerted himself and forced his voice too much; but as a whole he deserves the greatest credit for his work throughout. He had evidently taken Mr. Dampier as his model, for the style was in places unmistakable; but in addition to this he must have studied hard for himself, and his success last night must have been peculiarly gratifying, and not the less so as it was really earned and well deserved. Mr. Dampier's Iago is entirely sui generis. He discards all outward appearance of malignity, and even of passion—save what is feigned. There is a cold malice and cruelty about the part—a fair face and a friendly manner which irresistibly suggest the spirit of Mephistopheles. Then the affectation of [illegible] of Othello's feelings when Iago is condoling with Desdemona, and the sudden change to his natural manner in his asides to Emilia, are delicate pieces of acting. Mr. Dampier fairly carried away his audience, for it was no uncommon thing last night to hear murmurs of surprise and indignation run round the house at the manifestations of Iago's consummate hypocrisy. A higher compliment could scarcely be paid to an actor. Miss Pixley's Desdemona was good, [illegible] this lady has wonderfully improved in her acting of late. The scenes in which she protests first her ignorance of the cause of Othello's anger, and then her innocence of the charge he makes and her indignation at their falsity, were rendered in an exceedingly natural manner. Miss Bowring's Emilia was, as might be expected, the representation of a high-souled woman resenting every breath of suspicion, despising the Moor for his causeless jealousy, and, while half suspecting her husband's share in the deception, compelled to bow before his superior will. To these four characters the interest of the play is of course confined; but the others were, at all events, as well filled as could have been expected.

Theatre Royal.—It is a long time now since a play both good in itself and really well acted has been produced at this theatre. For the most part the public have had to rely more upon the merit of the performers and on good mounting than on the excellence of the drama. The announcement, therefore, that Mr. Tavares and Miss Surtees (Mrs. Tavares) would appear in the favourite and ever popular comedy of "London Assurance" was particularly welcome. The cast was—Sir Harcourt Courtly, Mr. Tavares; Lady Gay Spanker, Miss Surtees; Dazzle, Mr. Chaplin; Harkaway, Mr. Joyce; Grace Miss Docy Mainwaring; Charles, Mr. Douglas; Meddle, Mr. South; Dolly, Mr. Leston; and the other characters by Miss Maggie Oliver, and Messrs. Brown, Hasker, and Elliott. The first impression of the play was good, and throughout it was an undoubted success. Every one seemed fairly at home in the character which he or she assumed, and there was consequently that ease and smoothness about the performance which is imperatively necessary in comedy. Of Mr. Tavares' Sir Harcourt Courtly there is little necessity to say much; not because everything could not be said in its favour, but because his perfectly natural acting of the character is already thoroughly well-known here as in every other place in which he has appeared. If the part had been written expressly for him, he could not do it more justice—the whole make up of the character was complete. Miss Surtees also gave a very capital representation of Lady Gay Spanker; and, as might be expected, her idea was that of the happy merry English girl. Mr. Chaplin's Dazzle deserves notice as being a piece of really clever and ingenious acting. Miss Mainwaring was good, but she will be a little more effective when the comedy is next performed. For of course this will be done, not once, but often, in all probability; and that it will grow in popularity there can be very little doubt. It may be added that there was a full house, and that the applause was hearty throughout. This evening Othello will be performed, with Mr. Tavares as Iago.

Wilson's Circus.—There was an exceedingly good attendance at this popular place of amusement last night. The performances were carried through with their usual spirit and success, although Mace was not, owing to some deficiency in the lime light, able to give his delineations of statuary. He will take his benefit this evening, when, we understand, a gold watch and chain will be presented to him by Captain Macdonald on behalf of several friends. There will be no afternoon performance, as it was not wished to interfere in any way with Mr. L'Estrange's feat of crossing the harbour. The evening entertainment is announced as the last of the season; but Mr. Wilson will probably consider whether it might not be worth his while to delay his departure for at least another week.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN GEORGE-STREET.

About midnight the alarm of fire was rung through the city, and almost simultaneously flames were seen bursting up in the direction of George-street, between Hunter-street and the Post Office. The fire proved to be at Mr. Mountcastle's, the hatter's, and so speedily did it spread that the inmates barely escaped with their lives, if indeed thus much can be said, for one poor woman appeared to have been very seriously burned and injured. The fire was first discovered by passers-by in the street. Constables Butler and Flynn, who were on duty in the neighbourhood, on hearing of the occurrence, at once proceeded to rouse up the inmates of the establishment. These consisted of Mr. Mountcastle, his wife, and six daughters, and a Mrs. Merritt, a friend from New Zealand, who was on a visit to the Mountcastles. The fire appears to have broken out in a room over the shop, occupied by a Mr. James, agent for a Melbourne firm; but in what way it commenced has not been ascertained. The flames spread with great rapidity, so much so that they had extended along the corridor and to the upper bedrooms before the inmates were aware of their perilous position. Then followed a scene of indescribable confusion. With the flames at the doors of the bedrooms, and the suffocating smoke penetrating everywhere, there was not time for them to put on a particle of clothing, and in their nightdresses they rushed, some for the windows and others for the doors. Mrs. Merritt was evidently hard-pressed with the fire, as she threw herself out of the top back window, a height of about forty feet above the gateway. Several persons below, watching her movements, endeavoured to break her fall; but she nevertheless fell to the ground, and it is feared has sustained very serious, if not fatal injury, besides having been very severely burnt. She was at once removed in a cab to the Infirmary. Mr. Mountcastle was more fortunate. He succeeded in reaching the staircase window of the first floor, and, with the aid of the constables named above, who had by that time obtained a ladder, he reached terra firma, not, however, before he had been badly burnt about the left arm and shoulder. One or two of the daughters obtained an exit from the burning premises by similar means. The others succeeded in passing down the staircase through the flames, and reaching the street. All were, however, more or less burnt, though their injuries are not regarded as being serious. Mrs. Mountcastle escaped without injury. Two men, who it is presumed were endeavouring to render assistance, fell from the shop verandah, and were injured to such an extent as to necessitate their removal to the Infirmary. The fire consumed almost every particle of furniture, and every piece of woodwork in the first and second floor rooms; but by the timely exertions of the firemen, who arrived with their engines very speedily after the alarm had been given, the flames were prevented from spreading to the shop or back part of the ground floor and cellar. Water, however, accomplished a large amount of damage to the stock. Mr. E. Fosbery, Inspector-General of Police, Mr. Inspector Read, and Sub-inspectors Anderson and Rush, with a body of the metropolitan police force, were in attendance, and assisted not only to preserve order amongst the large crowd that had collected, but also to alleviate the misery and distress of those who had so suddenly been deprived of their home and clothing. Mr. Mountcastle and his family found refuge for a time in a cottage at the rear of the burnt premises, and subsequently removed to their friends. The adjoining premises on either side—Mr. Abbey, bootmaker, and Messrs. Flavelle Brothers, and Roberts, jewellers—fortunately escaped without injury, except of a very trifling character. From the time the alarm was given to the time the firemen had the fire under control, scarcely half an hour elapsed. It was impossible to learn this morning to what extent the premises and stock were insured.

THE EXHIBITION.

It is satisfactory to observe that the attendance at the Exhibition is well sustained, and Prince Alfred Park has, for the time being, become the great rendezvous of people from both town and country. The warm autumnal weather, which is most enjoyable, must be credited with some share in this result. His Excellency the Governor attended the Exhibition yesterday, and manifested great interest in all its departments. The preparations for the reception of the live stock, including the dogs and poultry, are in a forward state, and everything gives promise of a most successful exhibition in this direction. It is here that the interest of visitors from the country chiefly centres, and there is no reason to expect that their anticipations will this year suffer any disappointment.

The past week may almost be looked upon as a prologue, inasmuch as the work of receiving, unpacking, and classifying the exhibits has been carried on night and day. On Monday the curtain will rise on what may be termed the genuine exhibition. For the last day or two, and last evening particularly, large numbers of cattle, sheep, and other live stock poured into the various pens and stalls prepared for them. Looking upon the splendid animals that came forward, it can hardly be credited that New South Wales has been suffering from a long and disastrous drought.

We have already commented on the success of the first week, when there was confusion and bustle. Now, however, that the Executive Committee, stewards, secretary, and other officials have everything well in hand, it may be safely prognosticated that the ensuing week will prove a very great success. Large numbers of country visitors are awaiting the opening of the live stock departments, to pay their annual visits to Sydney. On the present occasion, besides the usual attraction of a most imposing array of the very best and purest blood, the numberless exhibits of labour-saving machinery and implements, as well as specimens of the arts and manufactures of Canada, the United States, and other countries side by side with products of Australia, will amply repay a visit.

It will be seen by an advertisement in another part of this journal that all stewards and judges of live stock are invited to meet in the luncheon rooms dedicated to their special use at 9 a.m. sharp, on Monday, when a dejeuner will be provided for them prior to going to their hard and thankless duties.

In reference to the wool-presses mentioned in our issue of yesterday, we are requested to mention that the press entered in the name of Mr. Williams was made by Messrs. Bradley and Son, of this city.

A City of Public-houses.—In an article in the Fortnightly Review on "Municipal Public-houses," it is stated that in several districts in Birmingham—a plan of one of which is given—there is one house either for the sale of beer or spirits for every sixty-five yards square, and that the average distance of one house from the other is less than 200 feet. The writer of the article (Mr. J. Chamberlain, M.P.) very naturally asks: "Will any sensible man contend that a provision of this kind is necessary for the accommodation of the people?" There are in the same city one grocer to every three publicans, two bakers to seven publicans, and one butcher to four publicans.

The Silver Question.—Some interesting facts in connection with the silver question (says the London Examiner) are brought to light in the San Francisco letter of a morning contemporary. Bullion dealers there command from 1 to 2 per cent. above the prices prevailing in the London market. It will be remembered, too, that a considerable amount of silver was lately bought here for the United States Government. The reasons for the comparative dearness of silver in San Francisco are attributable partly to the saving in time, and therefore in interest, effected on British account, by shipment at that port. The saving in time amounts to thirty days. In the next place, the California and Consolidated Virginia mines appear to be growing less and less productive. The output of these mines for November has been comparatively small. The Virginia did not even pay a dividend, "because it did not produce enough to do so, to say nothing of expenses, and discount on silver." The California was in a like plight. The value of their stock, says the correspondent, has declined enormously. "Vast sums of money were invested in them by a confiding public; and it is scarcely to be expected that investors will ever realise the original price paid for that stock." So much for the late terror of a permanent inundation of silver from America, and the uncertainty of the Indian Government as to whether the rupee would ever again rise above 1s. 6d., or sink below it! The Indian rates now average 1s. 10½d.

MR. HAY AND HIS CONSTITUENTS.

[By Telegraph.]

Deniliquin, Friday.

A public meeting was held here last night. About 250 voters were present. Resolutions were carried unanimously to the effect that Mr. W. Hay, member for the Murray district, should resign before leaving the colony for Europe.

The following is a copy of the resolutions:—(1.) "That this meeting regrets to observe from the published letter of Mr. William Hay, M.P. for the Murray district, that he has resolved while continuing to be its legal representative to stultify its electoral force by retaining his seat in the Assembly while absent from the colony during his intended visit to England." This was moved by Mr Cheriton, seconded by Mr. Simmons, and carried. (2.) "That such a determination is inconsistent with the relations of representative and represented, opposed to both public interest and policy, and unworthy of one claiming to discharge conscientiously the duties of a representative." This was moved by Mr. Barbour, seconded by Mr. M'Lean, and carried. (3.) "That the present social and political circumstances of this electorate, so far from allowing of the absence of its representative from Parliament, are such as to demand an honest, punctual, and assiduous attendance thereat, and this for the following reasons:—Because, during the few last years, and principally since the last general election, the constituency has greatly increased; its interests have become more varied; great evils have been endured in connection with settlement which require publicity in Parliament; and, lastly, because it has been announced that during the proximate sittings of Parliament a most important and fundamental law, affecting all constituencies (the Electoral Act), will be discussed." This was moved by Mr. Cameron, seconded by Mr. Brown, and carried. (4.) "That, for the reasons given in the foregoing resolutions, this meeting of electors cannot consent to place in abeyance the rights they possess under the electoral statute, and hence request Mr. Hay to resign his seat before leaving the colony; and this meeting directs that this and all other resolutions be immediately transmitted to Mr. W. Hay, M.P." This was moved by Mr. Johnston, seconded by Mr. Gillott, and carried. The meeting was addressed by several voters, and the general feeling was that Mr. Hay should resign.

Though the Stock and Share market was not very active to-day, prices were strong and without any indications of a decline. Joint Stock Bank sold at 13¾, Mercantile at 7: both held for an advance. City, Commercial, and New South Wales wanted at yesterday's quotations. Shale Oil fell to 16s., sales. Peak Downs Copper were taken at 8s. 3d., and holders ask 8s. 6d.; Great Cobar sold at 11s. 3d. to 11s. 6d. Pyrmont Bridge, for the first time for years past, were dealt in, and realised 4½. Some inquiry was experienced to-day for galvanized iron, and a few other articles. The import markets on the whole are looking a shade better, and likely to improve. Currants maintain the recent advance. Candles, salt, and sugars are also stronger. To-day, the Sugar Company raised the price of "A" quality, better known as "No mark," 20s. per ton. Their prices now are—Snowdrop, £44; crystals, £43; No. 1 pieces, £42; A, £39; M, £31; treacle, £20.

Active competition prevailed at the tallow sales held this morning. The bidding for candle sorts was brisk and prices firmer. Shipping parcels had also a ready sale at full rates. For hides the principal demand was for heavy well-cured parcels, and these realized fully last week's quotations. Inferior lots had a slow sale, as neither tanners nor buyers for export were disposed to purchase any not of good quality, and a considerable number were consequently withdrawn. Sales were held by Messrs. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin; Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark; Messrs. Mort and Co., Mr. Bridge, and Mr. Barker, and the following prices obtained: Heavy hides, 4d. to 4½d.; medium, 3½d to 4¼d; light and inferior, 2d. to 3¼d; horse, 3s. to 6s.; calfskins, 1s. 6d. to 5s.; yearlings, 3s. 6d. to 5s.; kangaroo, 6d. to 2s. 1d.; goat, 4d. to 1s. Horns, 20s. to 28s.; shankbones, £8 5s. to £11; cow hair, 11d. to 13½d. Beeswax, 10d. to 11d.

COMMERCIAL.

PRODUCE CIRCULARS.

MORT AND CO.—Wool: Latest telegrams inform us that the London February sales closed on the 26th March without animation, and that, general trade being unsatisfactory, the future of the market was uncertain. Of the 242,000 bales catalogued the bulk, or about two-thirds, was in grease. The reduction established is stated to be equal to 1½d to 3d per lb on November rates, which however, it will be remembered, showed very high average values. The greatest decline occurred in inferior and faulty wools, and cannot be regarded as an absolute fall to the extent stated on the value of the staple, so much as a readjustment of comparative values, taking former condition into account. Rather more than one-half of the wool sold was taken for export, and about 40,000 bales were held over for next series. The necessity to withdraw so large a quantity must, no doubt to some extent, be regarded as an item of weakness in the demand; but, on the other hand, is evidence of the confidence of those concerned in the stability of the market, and of an anticipation of improved prices further on. The next sales commence on the 8th of May, and it is estimated that arrivals in time will reach about 330,000 bales. We cannot report any material alteration on this side; at the latest sales there has been every disposition to do business at values quite equal to what might have been expected in view of the reported condition of the English market. The quality generally has been indifferent, and many of the unwashed lots in very wasty condition. For fairly-conditioned lines of good stapled washed fleece the competition has been very active, and all such wools have been readily cleared. We regret to have noticed the evidence this season, in a number of instances, of a great want of care in the packing of the wool sent to this market; no discrimination apparently in such cases having been exercised in regard to the quality and condition of the fleeces, good and bad being packed in the same bale—a proceeding which we need hardly say operates very greatly against wools so sent, and destroys all confidence in the bidding. In other cases we have noticed merino and crossbred fleeces freely mixed together; and although each description would of itself ensure a ready sale, the mixing of the fleeces has militated very considerably against a favourable result in the selling. We intend to go into this matter more fully at an early date, but in the meantime think it well to refer to the matter here. The export from this colony to date includes 127,781 bales, or 9387 bales in excess of corresponding shipments to a similar period last year. Sheepskins have sold readily throughout the month, and at prices quite equal to those previously current. The bulk of those forward were of very short growth, but any full-fleeced skins are eagerly competed for. Our sales have shown the following range of values—Medium to well-grown, 4½d to 6½d.; pelts and short-woolled, 1½d to 3½d; scoured, 7½d to 10d per lb. Tallow: Fairly-sized parcels of both beef and mutton have met ready sale, and small lots of mixed quality, only suitable for local manufacture, have also been readily cleared. There is a great scarcity of prime mutton suitable for candles, and any small lots of this description offered have met active competition. We quote—beef, fair to good, £33 to £34; inferior, £29 to £31 10s; mixed, £30 to £33; and mutton, £36 to £37 per ton. Hides have sold very fairly throughout, but the market has not been without some fluctuations, especially during the Easter holidays. Well-conditioned lots, medium to heavy weights, have been most in request, and we have placed a large number at quotations, viz.:—Medium to heavy salted, 4½d to 4¾d; light and dry, 3½d to 4½d; inferior, 2½d to 3d per lb. Horse hides, if carefully flayed and well cured, realise from 5s to 7s for best, and 3s 6d to 4s 6d each for second quality, but badly-conditioned lots are not in demand. Leather: Sole of good tannage has been readily quitted, and dressed sorts have shown more activity, but without any material alteration in prices. We quote—sole, 8d to 10d; harness, 12d to 14d; kip, 13d to 16½d; cow tweed, 23d to 26d; horse ditto, 22d to 24d; and other sorts at about proportionate values.—April 14.

HARRISON, JONES, AND DEVLIN.—Wool: 510 bales offered, 139 sold. The associated auctioneers did not hold any sales this week, and, as the season may now be considered nearly at an end, the usual fortnightly sales will now be held. The attendance of buyers this week was very fair, and biddings pretty brisk, especially for any good lots of any description free from burr or seed, although the parcels now being offered are not very attractive, consisting principally of small lots and remnants of clips. The sales ranged—for fleece, average to good, 15d to 17d; medium, 12d to 13d; greasy, average to good, 8d to 9d; medium, 6d to 7½d; scoured, average to good, 19d to 21d; medium, 13d to 16d. Sheepskins: Not a very large quantity was offered this week, but biddings for these were very good, and late prices were easily obtained. The sales ranged—Best, 5d to 6d; medium, 4d to 4½d; pelts and short-woolled, 2d to 3d. Tallow: 188 casks offered, 125 sold. To-day's sales passed off with briskness for both shipping and trade lots, and good prices were obtained for candle tallows, which are rather scarce. The sales ranged—Mutton, 35s to 36s 6d; beef, 31s 6d to 33s 6d; mixed and station, 29s to 31s 6d. We sold beef—WJ, 6 at 33s 6d; FB, 3 at 33s; A, 5 at 33s; C, 2 at 32s 9d; M, 16 at 32s 6d; BR, 6 at 32s 6d; U, 4 at 32s 6d; mixed, GA, 3 at 30s 9d; EB, 2 at 33s; GHD, 2 at 29s; N in circle, 2 at 31s 9d; PS, 2 at 31s 3d; WT, 6 at 30s; H, 3 at 31s 3d. Hides: 7870 offered, 2909 sold. Heavy hides are still in good request at late rates, but medium and lighter weights are scarcely in so good demand. The sales ranged—Extra heavy, 4¼d to 4¾d; heavy, 4d to 4¼d; medium, 3½d to 3¾d; light and middling, 3d to 3½d. We sold—WJ, 41 at 4¼d; A, 58 at 4¼d; OB, damaged, 11 at 2¼d; JHo, 8 at 4¼d; EB, 35 at 3¾d; Rope, 20 at 3¾d; CJH, 32 at 4¼d; P, 66 at 4¼d; DB, 57 at 4¼d; B, 49 at 4¼d; TRH, 32 at 3¾d, 12 at 3d; Blue tape, 14 at 3¼d; SD, 12 at 3½d; FB, 46 at 4d; AB over Z, 23 at 4¼d; H&W, 45 at 4¼d; calfskins and yearlings, 2s to 6s. Horns, 24s to 27s; bones, 9s to 13s. Cow hair at 11d. Glue pieces, 5s to 6s 6d. Leather: We have to notice a rather brisk demand this week for all descriptions. Good parcels of kip sold very well, as did other well-dressed leathers. Harness is a little more in request, and sole leather sells very fairly, considering the late unfavourable English news. Quotations—Sole, best, 9d to 10½d; medium, 8d to 8½d; kip, best, 15d to 16d; medium, 13½d to 14½d; harness, 11d to 13d; bag, 10s to 12s 6d; calf, 28d to 32d; cow tweed, 20d to 24d; horse ditto, 18d to 24d. We disposed of a very heavy catalogue, viz.:—Sole, 41 sides at 10d, 39 at 9½d, 180 at 8½d, 86 at 8½d, 170 at 8½d, 100 at 8½d; damaged, 6d to 8½d; kip, 51 sides at 15d, 150 at 14¾d, 38 at 14½d, 105 at 13¼d, damaged at 12d; harness, brown, 3 rolls at 12d, 2 at 11d, 2 rolls, black, at 13d; cow tweed, 25d, bag at 11s, strap at 12s, yearling tweed at 27d, H. T. wallaby at 33d. Tin Ore: 2683 bags, equal to 140 tons, have arrived this week. We have very little alteration to notice in this market, the demand being quite equal to that of last week without any difference in price, and the market must be quoted firm at last quotations. Tin: Latest London telegram, "Tin, £70." This is a rather lower figure than last quotation, and this, together with the great scarcity and high rate of freight, has made the market a little weaker, although the quantity of tin offering is rather limited in consequence of the large lots sold for forward delivery.—April 13.

MAIDEN, HILL, AND CLARK.—Wool: No sales were held this week, the associated auctioneers having arranged to hold fortnightly sales until the opening of the coming season. Tallow: This market is very bare of all descriptions; consequently the lots catalogued realised prices a shade higher than those of the previous week. Quotations are—Beef, £30 to £33 10s; mutton, £35 to £37 10s; station, £28 to £31 10s; curriers' grease, £15 per ton. Hides: There was a poor attendance at to-day's sales; heavy hides only retained their values, intercolonial orders having assisted to keep the market up for this description; light and medium are easier with very little inquiry, horse yearlings and calfskins remain very dull. We append prices as follows:—Heavies, 4¼d to 4½d (the latter price was obtained by us for the Sydney Meat Preserving Company's); butchers', 3½d; medium, 3¼d to 3¾d; light, 3¼d to 3½d per lb.; yearlings, 3s 6d to 4s 6d; calf, 2s to 2s 6d; horse, 3s to 7s each. Hair remains extremely dull, and can only be quitted at reduced figures; horse is worth 12d to 15d; cow, 7d to 10d per lb. Horns and bones are salable at—for horns, 20s to 28s per 100; bones, £7 to £10 per ton. Leather: The sales passed off with considerable spirit, almost every line being well competed for; higher prices were obtainable for bag, bridle, and harness; sole remains stationary, upper leather slightly better. Quotations are—Sole, 8d to 10d; kip, 12d to 15d; calf, 2s 3d to 2s 9d; harness, 12d to 14d; ditto damaged, 10d to 10½d; yearling, 16d to 17d per lb.; bridle, 11s to 11s 6d per side.—April 13.

STOCK AND STATION REPORTS.

SULLIVAN AND SIMPSON.—Stations: We have not had quite so many inquiries this week as usual for these favourite investments. This is, no doubt, owing to the holidays caused by the opening of the Exhibition, and until this novelty is over very little business will be done. We have some splendid stations in our hands for sale, which we invite inspection of by those wishing to purchase. Fat Cattle: The supply this week was much more moderate than for some time past. On Monday the attendance was good, and the biddings spirited. On Thursday there was not quite so large a field of buyers, but as there were not too many penned, all sold well, and prices advanced to fully 10s per head compared to last week's rates; we expect from now to the end of the winter to see prices gradually improve up to a certain point. This week we quote best picked pens of bullocks worth 25s per 100 lbs., fair to good 22s per 100 lbs., all others according to condition. Since our last report we have sold 198, on account of our Mudgee agents, at an average of £4 17s 8d, cows and bullocks in low condition; also on account of Messrs. Parker and Ward, 240 head cows and bullocks, at an average of £6 5s 10d; and 120 bullocks, on account of Mr. Sullivan, at an average of £7 10s 8d. Fat Sheep: The supply this week about up to requirements, the quality of nearly all the flocks, with few exceptions, being only in middling condition; this is owing to the bare state of the roads down to market; the only prime sheep in this week were a few paddock wethers, trained down from Bathurst. Prime sheep are very scarce, and a good lot of 60-lb. wethers would realise a high price, but there are none in the market, except a few crossbreds. We quote 56-lb. wethers worth 13s to 13s 6d, 50-lb., 11s; 47-lb., 10s; ewes, proportionately. We have this week sold 2091 wethers, light weights, on account of Mr. H. H. C. Bird, at 10s each, not brought by train. Store Stock: We have had several inquiries for well-grown wethers of fattening ages, and any large lots can be readily sold at a satisfactory price. Owing to the dry season on the Hunter, there is not the usual demand for bullocks, but should we be blessed with a good downpour in the districts that are now suffering, a good many would soon change hands.—April 13.

G. M. PITT AND SON.—Stations: We have had more inquiries for stations this week than for some time past, and hope to be able to report some sales in the course of a few days. We have placed a large cattle property in the Gwydir district under offer, and the buyer has started to inspect. Fat Cattle: 1000 forward. Sales this week have been marked with increasing firmness, and there seems every probability of obtaining enhanced prices in the course of a few weeks. The quality of the different lots yarded was rather better than of late, and the averages generally were higher than for some time past. We quote best beef worth 25s per 100 lbs. Our sales have been 500 bullocks, on account of the A. A. Co., delivered on their Warrah station, at £9 cash. Fat Sheep: Most of the arrivals this week have been in the hands of the trade. For anything offering at the yards there is brisk competition, and prices have an improving tendency. The quality of the mutton in the market at present is the worst we ever remember, and with few exceptions is totally unfit for trade requirements. The roads are in such a bad state from want of grass and water that it is impossible to get sheep in well, and the wonder on the Western road is how they manage to come down at all eatable. We quote 56-lb. wethers, of which there are none offering, at 13s; 50-lb. ditto, at 11s. Our sales have been—1050 wethers (Chisholm and Stuckey's) at 9s 6d, 160 ditto at 10s. Store Sheep: We have inquiries for good fattening wethers, and could place from 20,000 to 50,000 at a satisfactory price. Quotations—All depend on the condition and place of delivery, say 6s to 7s for 6 and 8 tooth wethers.—April 13.

P. N. TREBECK.—Stations: I have had several inquiries during the week for moderately-stocked salt bush stations, with from 12,000 to 15,000 sheep. Buyers are willing to give 20s per head for such properties, but very few are in the market just now. Those properties that can be worked under fencing are the most readily saleable. I have, in conjunction with Messrs. Maiden, Hill, and Clark, sold the Borah Station, Liverpool Plains District, with 12,000 sheep, at 13s per head, horses, stores, &c., at a valuation—Messrs. Rudd and Buckley, purchasers. Fattening cattle stations are also in fair demand. Store Cattle: Business still continues dull as this description of store stock. Our best market in Riverina is still closed from want of rain. A few small lots of bullocks would be salable at from £4 to £4 5s. per head. Store Sheep: There is an active demand for large-framed wethers, and prices have improved during the last few days. Sound sheep in travelling condition are worth 6s to 6s 9d. I have completed the delivery of 8250 wethers to Messrs. Bucknell, Brothers. Fat Cattle: 1260 have been sent in, there is an improvement in the prices for the best quality, which may now be quoted at from 24s to 26s per 100 lbs.; second quality, from 20s to 21s per 100 lbs. Fat Sheep: The best pens have brought improved rates this week, and the market for really good sheep has an upward tendency, 56-lb. wethers are worth from 11s 6d to 12s per head; medium, from 9s 6d to 10s 6d per head.—April 13.

HARRISON, JONES, AND DEVLIN.—Stations: We have not heard of any sales during the week. There are two or three large properties under offer, and hope to report in our next. Fat Cattle: 1218 yarded. This being about our weekly supply, prices ruled on Monday about last week's quotations. On Thursday prices were better, more especially on good pens, to the extent of 10s. Prime beef may be quoted at 25s; medium, 21s. Fat Sheep: 7454 yarded. In addition to this number the carcase butchers have had several consignments by steamer. Prime sheep may be quoted from 6d to 1s per head better, and prices are likely to remain firm for some time. 56-lbs. are worth 12s. Store Cattle: We have to repeat our remarks of last report. There are buyers, but owing to the dry weather they do not seem inclined to operate. Store Sheep: We have several buyers for good framed sheep, but find a difficulty in meeting their demands.—April 13.

MAIDEN, HILL, AND CLARK.—Fat Cattle: 1218 head were penned for the week's supply, which was about equal to requirements. On Monday sales were very dull, and agents had some difficulty in making a clearance; but on the Thursday sales were marked with an advance of fully 10s per head, best bullocks selling up to £10 10s; ditto cows, £9 5s. Since our last we report having sold—On account of Messrs. C. and T. Young and Co., Caidmurra, 104 head at £7 7s 9d; and 107 head, from same place, at £7 9s 8d, on account of Mr. T. Hellman, from Beamba, 144 head at £7 3s 5d; and on account of Mr. A. Tobin, Bullarora, 150 head (all cows), at £6 7s. Prime beef is now worth 25s per 100 lbs., and we think now, fat cattle, especially prime sorts, will command good prices all through the winter. Fat Sheep: 7454 penned for the week, besides which some small lots came direct to the carcase trade. Prime wethers, 56 lbs., are worth 12s, and are eagerly sought after. Best ewes, 7s to 8s, with very few arriving. We have sold—On account of Messrs. Chambers, Spiatt, and Co., Carwell, 2090 wethers; on account of Mr. G. Traine, 1574 ditto; on account of Mr. James Seivel, 1798 ditto; on account of Mr. F. Iredale, Goolhi, 1816 ditto; and on account of Mr. W. Hatton, Zandra, 2262 mixed, all at satisfactory prices. Store Stock: We have just completed the sale of 8942 of Mr. A. Town's wethers to Captain C. Smith, at a satisfactory price. Good wethers for fattening purposes are eagerly sought after, and we have had several inquiries for such. Stations: We have not heard of any transactions taking place during the week under this heading.—April 12.

WILLIAM INGLIS.—Fat Cattle: The supply this week was not so heavy. Good quality sold at higher rates, but middling and inferior are dull of sale. Best beef is worth from 20s to 24s per 100 lbs. I sold—36 head light cows (E. L. Moore's), at an average of £6; 20 ditto (A. Chisholm's), at £5 18s to £7 8s. Sheep: There was a fair supply, and but little difference in prices since last week. I sold 60 ewes (Lewis's), at 6s 3d to 7s. Milch Cows: There was a very brisk demand, also a fair supply. I sold 46 at from £5 5s up to £13 7s 6d; Calves: The market was very much overstocked. I sold 35 (Cooper, Brothers') at 26s to 47s, 20 (A. Chisholm's) at 19s to 33s, 33 (J. and A. Badgery's) at 16s 6d to 29s, 33 (Fairley's) at 12s 6d to 33s 6d, and 40 others at from 6s 6d to 39s. Lambs: There was a heavy supply, but a brisk demand, for good lambs, which went off well. I sold 101 (Dennis's) at 10s, 40 (Liddington's) at 9s 9d to 11s, 20 (Byrne's) at 14s 6d to 15s 9d, 60 (Lewis's) at 8s 6d to 10s 3d, 40 (Warren's) at 9s 6d to 10s 6d. Pigs: A fair supply; demand very brisk. Quotations—11s 6d to 61s. Horses: There is a brisk demand for all kinds of good horses. I sold 46 head (M'Connell and Welch's) at from £5 to £28, at the Camperdown Yards.—April 12.

GEORGE KISS reports the following sales at his Bazaar:—For Mr. G. S. Yeo: A bay imported colt, Struck Gold, for 250 guineas. For Mr. F. M'Mahon: A light roan bull, 29 guineas; a light roan bull, 37 guineas; a dark red bull, 20 guineas; a rich roan bull, 37 guineas; a rich roan bull, 20 guineas; a rich roan bull, 13 guineas. SYDNEY MARKETS.

CATTLE MARKET.

AFTER having been for many weeks glutted with inferior stock the market showed a decided improvement in the quality of animals offered at Homebush for sale on Thursday. Some very fine lots of both sheep and cattle were disposed of at good figures, and the competition was brisk. Mr. Devlin sold 120 bullocks from Garswood Paddock that fetched the extreme price of £9 16s, and the whole lot averaged £7 16s 8d. About 350 were sold. There was a marked improvement in the sheep, one cross-bred lot of which went as high as 15s per head. Over 4000 altogether were sold. The following were the prices obtained at the latest sales:—Bullocks, £5 to £9 10s; cows, £5 to £7 15s; sheep, 9s 6d to 15s. Lambs have been selling at from 7s to 15s; calves, 30s to £2; pigs (scarce), £2 to £3.

SYDNEY PRODUCE PRICES CURRENT.

[illegible] the market is rather excited in consequence of the [illegible] which reports the market bare and prices advancing. DESTITUTE CHILDREN'S ASYLUM.

AN adjourned meeting of the directors of the Destitute Children's Asylum was held at the Sydney Infirmary, yesterday afternoon. The Rev. Canon Stephen (vice-president) occupied the chair.

The CHAIRMAN said this was an adjourned meeting, the usual monthly meeting last Wednesday week having been adjourned very abruptly under circumstances which he very much regretted, but which he need not refer to further. He had one particular request to make to the Board—that they would do all they could, should any unpleasantness occur, to support the authority of the chair. (Hear, hear.) He had endeavoured as far as he could to exercise the office of chairman firmly and impartially. All men were liable to err, and he might have made mistakes, but he had never done so wilfully or intentionally. On the last occasion no such mistakes were laid to his charge, but in consideration of what took place at the previous meeting, and thinking they might probably have strong words used on this occasion, he had seen his brother vice-president, Mr. G. Allen, who had, however, declined to come and preside. He had also seen their president, Sir E. Deas-Thomson, but he too was unable to come. But he hoped everything would be done that day to support him in his onerous position, and if he endeavoured to put a stop to any warmth, he hoped it would be imputed to a desire to carry on the business satisfactorily. He had now to read a letter which had been just put into his hands by the secretary and accountant. He then read the following letter:—

"Woollahra, April 12, 1877.

"Gentlemen,—At this stage of the business I take the opportunity of expressing my regret that anything of an unpleasant nature should have taken place between myself and some gentlemen of the Board. If I have imputed motives which circumstances did not justify, I regret it. I wish most distinctly however, to say, on expressing my regret for what has occurred, that I do so, not from fear of any ulterior consequences to myself as affecting my position as your secretary. I trust that I should be one of the first to apologise to any person, however humble his position might be, if I had unwittingly attributed wrong motives to his conduct. I think every gentleman of this Board will give me credit for having, through the course of nearly eleven years of my connection with this institution, conducted myself to every one, high and low, with gentlemanly propriety.

"With respect to the vexed question of the boy Bardon, if the Board deem that his services are not necessary, I beg as a personal favour that I may be allowed to retain him, even if I am to pay his salary out of my own.

"I remain, Gentlemen, yours respectfully,
"W. WAILES, Secretary."

Mr. S. H. PEARCE said he had been deputed by the House Committee to state that the charges which had been made were unfounded. The House Committee regretted that such charges should ever have been circulated in reference to the Executive Committee of that Board to which he belonged.

The CHAIRMAN: If he has withdrawn them?

Mr. S. H. PEARCE said it was only yesterday that the secretary had refused to withdraw them, and he had a document to read to the Board which would show the course that the House Committee deemed was the only one for them to pursue. It was well known to the members of the Board that various abuses had crept into the management of the institution, and it was only recently that measures had been taken to remedy those abuses. A select committee was appointed by the Board of directors to make inquiries into the financial position of the institution, and also into the general management. That committee examined witnesses at great length, and ultimately brought up a report which, with the exception of one clause, was adopted by that Board. Subsequently the Government appointed a Commission with a similar object, as they had a perfect right to do, being the largest contributors to the institution. That Commission not only took into consideration the views of the select committee, but they further took evidence of their own, and they came to the conclusion that it was necessary to adopt many of the suggestions which the select committee had made. The question then was—who was to take up the cudgels in making these reforms? and as no one else did so, he took the matter in hand, with a determination that what was good in those reports should receive due consideration, and be made reforms of the institution. In September or October, last year, he moved for the appointment of a select committee to inquire into these matters, and he was appointed chairman of that committee. He was also appointed by the committee to draw up the draft of a report. One of the more important reforms which he suggested was, that the children should be placed under the management of the Council of Education. Others had tried to take credit for being the first to moot this subject, but it was well known to the Board and to the committee that he was the first to make that proposal. That report was received by the committee, and a special resolution was moved to enable them to obtain the sanction of the Council of Education to the principle which was thus initiated. They made such alterations in the by-laws as they thought necessary to carry out the reforms required; and the report, with a few verbal alterations, was approved of by the directors. The next thing was to call a meeting of the subscribers to confirm what had been done, and they all knew the battle he had had to fight on that occasion. The Board of directors was reduced by those by-laws, and they met, and appointed a House Committee to represent them in the management of the affairs of the institution. Since then the House Committee had been very diligent in endeavouring to reduce the expenditure of the institution. Among other matters they were instructed to bring up a report upon the financial condition of the institution, instead of referring the matter to a sub-committee. They could not properly go into these matters in the presence of the superintendent and the secretary, and they requested both those officers to withdraw while the committee were discussing matters connected with their position, their salaries, and their duties. If those gentlemen had felt themselves aggrieved they should have protested at the next meeting of the committee, but no such protest had ever been handed in. At one of those meetings it was decided that as the office in Sydney had been abolished it was no longer necessary to retain in the accountant's office the services of the boy to, whom they paid a salary of £26 a year; and in view of the alteration which they proposed to recommend to the Board they decided to place that boy under the directions of the superintendent to initiate him into the duties of storekeeping, so as to enable him to fill that position whenever the alteration should be made that they intended to recommend. They, therefore, passed a resolution to that effect, but the secretary set at defiance the action of the House Committee in the matter; he took the boy from the superintendent, declared that the boy belonged to him, and would not allow him to carry out the duties which the House Committee had assigned to him. If that was not an act of insubordination to the House Committee he did not know what was. They did not mention this matter to the secretary, for they were determined to bear with these matters as far as they could, and merely treated it as an ebullition of temper on his part. At the meeting when it was decided to make Mr. Wailes, secretary and accountant, he had felt doubts as to his ability to perform the duties, and did not consider himself justified in voting for him. However, Mr. Wailes was appointed for six months, and the House Committee were determined to give him a fair trial, and no one member of the House Committee had ever said one word to wound the feelings of Mr. Wailes, or derogate from his character. He emphatically denied ever having said one word about ousting Mr. Wailes, or not giving him a fair trial, but what had been the result? He, as hon. treasurer of the institution, had given instructions to Mr. Wailes that every payment made from the funds, exceeding one pound, should be by cheque, and that all money orders and cash should be sent to him; also that press copies should be kept of all letters sent in connection with his department. That was the sum and substance of the offence which he had given. He was astounded at the last meeting to hear the statement made by the secretary—a paid officer of the institution—that the House Committee dared not hear the truth, and that certain members of the House Committee had leagued themselves together to oust him from his situation. When called upon to give an explanation, Mr. Wailes said that Mr. Davis, Mr. Butchart, and Mr. Pearse were the three persons he had referred to who wished to oust him from his situation. He could only say that the House Committee had never been guilty of one act wherein they dared not hear the truth, or which they would not allow the whole world to know. He denied the statement made by the secretary; there was no foundation for the statement, nor was there any truth in his words. In reference to his saying that they wanted to oust him from his situation, that was a very serious charge; it was charging them with conspiring together—an offence for which they would be amenable to the laws of their country. That statement was false and unfounded. No gentleman of the committee had ever spoken to him about ousting Mr. Wailes; he had never leagued himself with any man, nor had any man ever leagued himself with him. When called upon to explain this, Mr. Wailes said he had been told so, but he refused to say who had told him. The House Committee had weighed all these circumstances; they felt they were impeded in the performance of their duties by the manner in which they had been treated by their officer. They had solemnly considered the question, and they had arrived at this conclusion, which they had drawn up in the form of a report, and which he would read:—"We, the undersigned members of the House Committee, believing that the conduct of Mr. Secretary Wailes towards us at the last Board meeting, held in Sydney on the 4th instant, was highly discourteous, unwarrantable, and insulting, and also detrimental to the best interests of the institution, have unanimously decided not to submit ourselves to further insult by permitting that officer to act again in any capacity whatever under us. Signed—S. H. Pearce, J. Watkins, J. Hughes, E. G. Crane, J. Davies, J. H. Butchart." He begged to move that the report of the House Committee be received.

Mr. HANSON seconded the resolution for the reception of the report.

Mr. I. J. JOSEPHSON thought Mr. Wailes, after such a severe castigation at the hands of Mr. Pearce, ought to have the right of reply.

The CHAIRMAN said no one would wish to deprive Mr. Wailes of the privilege, or the right to reply.

Mr. JOHN DAVIES wished to say a few words before Mr. Wailes made his reply. They had had an apology from Mr. Wailes. There was scarcely a member of the Board who felt more deeply the words used by Mr. Wailes than he did; still for all that he should be inclined to accept the apology. Mr. Wailes had admitted that he had committed a great mistake, and he had made the only amends that a man could do. He felt disposed to accept the apology and let matters go on until the expiration of the six months for which Mr. Wailes was appointed. He agreed with Mr. Pearce that they had been grossly maligned, but it had all arisen from misconception on the part of the secretary, who had formed the impression that the House Committee were actuated by a desire to deprive him of his position. He solemnly declared that it had never entered into his mind to cast off an old servant in that way. The House Committee were anxious to provide for Mr. Wailes, not in the position of secretary, but in that of accountant and storekeeper. No one could dispute the ability of Mr. Wailes as an accountant, but he doubted that gentleman's fitness for the office of secretary. The House Committee had been deputed by the Board to see what could be done to improve the position of the institution, and they had simply made a recommendation as to what they thought best. They had had no other motive than to effect a saving to the institution.

Mr. BUTCHART, as one of the two referred to, endorsed every word that had been said by Mr. Pearse. He could not agree with the recommendation of Mr. Davies that the apology should be accepted. He had never listened to so gross a slander upon his character as that uttered by Mr. Wailes, and the apology now offered did not touch the charges in the slightest degree.

Mr. W. M. ALDERSON thought it rested with the House Committee as to whether they should accept the apology or not. It was an apology made to them alone, and not to the Board.

Mr. HANSON said the question was whether Mr. Wailes or the House Committee was to rule the institution.

The CHAIRMAN thought Mr. Wailes had a right to appeal to the Board, but in doing so he forgot himself, and made statements he ought not to have done; and therefore the Board had to deal with the matter. The question now was whether the apology should be accepted, and Mr. Wailes be allowed to go on till the end of the six months for which he had been appointed. Then, no doubt, the circumstances would be borne in mind if he applied for re-election.

Mr. HEBBLEWHITE thought there had been a great display of temper on both sides, and things had been said which were not intended. He would recommend Mr. Wailes not to attempt to answer Mr. Pearce, for it would only lead to further discussion. If he left the matter to the House Committee, no doubt they would deal with it in a fair and honourable manner.

The Hon. G. ALLEN could not understand the meaning of the resolution, for if the report were received that would not do any thing. They must have notice to consider this report, and decide upon what should be done upon it. The three gentlemen concerned in this matter had all spoken, and one of them seemed inclined to accept the apology. It would not be a bad show of temper if the other two would go in with Mr. Davies. He thought Mr. Wailes ought to make an ample apology for the language he had used, for even if he were right, it was not for a servant to tell his masters that they had leagued to turn him out of his office, and that they were afraid to hear the truth. He thought it a pity they could not go on in a more quiet and harmonious way, and it grieved him, as the founder of the institution, to find that it had fallen in the estimation of the public. If the apology made by Mr. Wailes was what it ought to be, it should be accepted.

Mr. WAILES said he found himself in rather a peculiar position. If he attempted to justify the course of action he took on the last occasion he would have to give his reasons, and he did not see that that would do any good. He had had, as he believed, strong reasons for saying what he did. He certainly said it under excitement, but not without what he considered sufficient reasons for so saying. But, as to making any other apology beyond what they had there, he should do no such thing, for that was the only apology he could conscientiously make. To say any more would be only adding oil to fire, and he declined to go into it there.

The motion for the reception of the report was agreed to.

After some further discussion,

Mr. PEARCE moved that the adoption of the report of the House Committee be considered on Friday next, at 3 o'clock, and that the Board adopt such measures as they may deem necessary under the circumstances.

Agreed to.

On the motion of Mr. ALDERSON, it was resolved that Mr. Wailes be suspended from the office of secretary, pending the decision of this matter.

Mr. DAVIES moved that Mr. Thomas, the superintendent, be appointed acting-secretary during the suspension of Mr. Wailes. This was agreed to, and Mr. Thomas was also empowered to sign cheques.

The meeting then adjourned until Friday next, at 3 o'clock.

ACADEMY OF ART EXHIBITION.

THIRD NOTICE.

IN the present Exhibition, the studies, &c., by the Art students of the Academy, are not the least interesting feature. The number of these studies is not great; but many of them display considerable merit, and evince careful instruction on the part of the master, and a sincere desire to improve on the part of the students. The studies from the round will be found on the screen at the end of the gallery; and the eastern room is devoted to the more pretentious copies of paintings—a separation of the one class from the other which is fair to both. The exhibits of the first class are, with two exceptions (a scroll in pencil by Mr. T. Loxton, and the "Fighting Gladiator," in oil, by Mr. Percy Williams) in crayon; and they show a great amount of faithful and good work. The exhibitors of crayons are—Miss Brady, 2; A. George, 1; T. Loxton, 2; R. M'Credie, 1; J. Patching, 2; Miss F. Scott, 1; Percy Williams, 1; Miss Zabel, 2. It will be observed that the lady students are in the minority here, and we understand that the students in this section are principally young men who have joined the evening classes. On the other hand, the copies from pictures are chiefly by ladies—the Misses Barnet, 6; Miss Marshall, 2; Miss Maze, 2; Miss Samuel, 2; Messrs. Patching and Williams show only one copy each. The reason for this, presumably, is that the lady students, few of whom probably intend to follow the art as a profession, prefer to produce as early as possible pretty pictures, and to acquire the use of colour, rather than to content themselves with the more humble drudgery of the rudiments, without which, however, no excellence in painting is possible. They are certainly entitled to the credit of having produced very nice pictures, and to have copied the originals very carefully. Indeed one is bound to admit, generally, that the students' work this year shows a marked improvement as compared with that in last Exhibition. Still, though their work will be pleasing to their friends, it would, to those who desire to see evidence of a future school of painting in Australia, have been more gratifying if there were a large number of studies and fewer attempts at finished pictures, which are, after all, little more than copies of tints without the power and effect of the originals.

It is easy to understand the difficulty which Signor Anivitti must have in convincing many of his pupils of the necessity of patiently working at the elements, and of avoiding colour until the eye has been educated by Nature, and the hand can follow the eye. In the long run, Signor Anivitti will find that his reputation as a teacher will be more firmly secured if he requires a longer course of rigorous study from his pupils, especially before they are allowed to exhibit their productions on the walls of the Academy. Allowing great merit to several of the copies, such as that of the Madonna and Melby's sea piece, especially considering the short time the class has been in existence, the danger is that a student who is a copyist only will never be anything better than a mere copyist. The general likeness to the original pictures may be preserved in his pictures, but unless the student learns why the painter of the original used such and such colours to produce a certain effect (and this can only be learned by studying Nature), true artistic knowledge and power will never be obtained. In many galleries the rule is that no copy of an entire painting shall be made, but the student is limited to studies of portions—for instance, a head, a gleam of sunlight, a piece of drapery, or a bit of foreground. There is a reason for this, other than the advancement of the copyist; but such a rule, if enforced here, would be greatly to the advantage of the students. These remarks, which are not in any way intended as disparaging what has been done, or discouraging future efforts, apply equally to the copies, &c., exhibited by the other pupils in the exhibition. Of these Miss Fiveash sends 2; Miss A. Montefiore, 3; Miss Randle, 1; W. Mason, 2; and H. Shaw, 2. Miss Williams contributes in this class also a portrait in oils from the life.

As yet no awards of prizes have been made in this section of the Academy's Exhibition; and, in several quarters, complaints are made that this has not yet been done; but it must be remembered that there has scarcely yet been time. The Easter holidays and the preparations for the Intercolonial Exhibition have taken up most of the fortnight since the Academy's exhibition was opened, and there has not been an opportunity to get the judges together. Besides it must not be forgotten that they work purely from love of art, and that they have only their spare time in the intervals of business to bestow on the work of the Academy. This, especially as they gave their services gratuitously, will probably be deemed a sufficient, as it is the true explanation of the delay.

NOTES OF THE WEEK.

THE SYDNEY AMATEUR TURF CLUB.

THE first meeting of the abovenamed Club will take place at Randwick this afternoon, when the excellence of the bill of fare is almost certain to command more than a fair attendance. There are half-a-dozen races set down for decision, including a hurdle race, steeplechase, flat races, and a two-year-old handicap. There was very little speculation at Tattersall's last evening, but from what was done, it is likely that Goulburn will be most in favour for the Hurdle Race, and Master Linne, Maggie Moore, and Cheroot for the Steeplechase. The first race is to start at half-past 1 o'clock, and the following is the programme:—

METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE Mr. District Court Judge WILKINSON.

A number of ex. so. motions and other matters of a formal nature were disposed of.

WILSHIRE V. THRUMP.

Action to recover £12 12s., money paid to defendant, Mary Thrump, by one Ann Smith, deceased, for the purpose, as alleged, of paying the same to plaintiff for twenty-one weeks' rent due to him by Ann Smith. Mr. G. Knox, instructed by Messrs. Want, Johnson, and Want, for plaintiff; Mr. Want, instructed by Mr. Oliver, for defendant. The amount paid to defendant was £9, and she admitted the receipt of that sum, but refused to pay it to the plaintiff. In fact, she used it to pay Mrs. Smith's funeral expenses. Deceased told plaintiff that she had given defendant this £9 to pay on account of rent due, but there the case stopped. In the absence of any acknowledgment by defendant of that statement, plaintiff was nonsuited.

The other cases on the list were settled out of court.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE Mr. District Court Judge DOWLING.

Mr. W. J. Foster prosecuted for the Crown.

INFLICTING GRIEVOUS BODILY HARM.

James Brown and Newton Newman were charged with having, on the 5th of February last, unlawfully and maliciously inflicted grievous bodily harm on one Ellen Jerrold. Both prisoners pleaded not guilty, and were defended by Mr. Newton. There had been a distraint for rent on the premises in which Mrs. Jerrold occupied two rooms, and the bailiff put in possession was prisoner Newman. Brown is the son of Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Jerrold's landlady, against whom there had also been an execution. Prosecutrix charged Newman with having, on the evening of the 5th of February, thrown her down on the stairs, and injured her a good deal, spraining one of her wrists, and squeezing her throat; Brown kept at the door and would not allow anyone to come in to her assistance; Mrs. Brown came up while she was lying down, and tore out a pocket of her dress in which she had papers and money. The jury, without leaving the box, found the prisoners guilty of a common assault, and they were each sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment in Darlinghurst gaol.

FELONIOUSLY WOUNDING A CONSTABLE.

John Wright was charged with having, on the 16th of March last, feloniously wounded constable John Vance Blain, with intent to avoid arrest. Prisoner pleaded not guilty, and was undefended. On the previous day, Wright had been found guilty of breaking and entering the premises of Mr. Hinsch, warehouseman, in Pitt-street North, and stealing therefrom a quantity of crimean shirts. Constable Blain, during early morning of the 16th of March, saw Wright and another man, one of whom he had seen shortly before carrying a bundle, and their appearance and actions being suspicious, he followed the two men and sought to arrest them. They made off, and he was only able to follow one of them, and he chose to go after Wright. The prisoner, while he and the constable were both running, either by accident or design, came to the ground, and constable Blain fell over him. Blain as the weather was warm had his jumper open, and in falling his baton which had been inside dropped. It was seized by the prisoner who struck Blain several blows on the head with it; and after a fierce struggle, Blain (who received two very severe wounds on the head, and had his thumb almost bitten through), succeeded in getting the baton, with which he mastered the prisoner. Both the constable and prisoner were very seriously injured, according to the evidence of Dr. George Pattison and Dr. Myles Egan. Although several persons hearing the noise (it being, however, quite dark at the time) were at their doors and windows (in Bourke-street, Woolloomooloo), only one person came up to the assistance of the policeman. By the aid of this man—Patrick Stanley, a dealer—prisoner was handcuffed. The spot where the struggle had taken place was covered with the blood of the constable and prisoner. In summing up, his Honor said that the conduct of the constable and of Stanley was deserving of the highest praise. If, like Judges in the mother country, he had the control of a certain fund there in existence, he would gladly order out of it money-compensation both to the constable and to Stanley, but unfortunately there was no such fund at his disposal. The jury returned a verdict of guilty. The gaoler stated that in 1856 prisoner was sentenced on two charges of burglary to ten years' hard labour on the roads; in June of last year, to three months' for stealing; and on the same month to three months for inflicting grevious bodily harm—biting through the thumb of a constable. Prisoner, for the burglary at Hinsch's, was sentenced to three years' hard labour in Parramatta gaol; and for inflicting grevious bodily harm on constable Blain, a like sentence—the two sentences to be cumulative—making in all six years with hard labour.

WOUNDING WITH INTENT.

Thomas Mackay was charged with having, on the 3rd of March last, wounded with intent to do grevious bodily harm one James Carey. Prisoner pleaded not guilty, and was defended by Mr. A. M. Castle. The prosecutor and the prisoner were together in Jarrett's public-house, Harris-street, Ultimo. Mackay asked Carey to drink with him, but he declined. Prisoner became offended at the refusal, and struck prosecutor. They afterwards had a struggle in the public-house. Prisoner went outside and called upon Carey to come out and fight. Carey went out, and they had a scuffle together, in which prosecutor was stabbed with a knife in the arm. For the defence it was urged that the stab had been accidental, and that in the scuffle Carey had run against the point of a pocket-knife with which prisoner had just before been cutting tobacco. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of unlawfully and maliciously wounding, and prisoner was sentenced to six months with hard labour in Darlinghurst gaol.

CASES POSTPONED.

The following cases were postponed, the prisoners being admitted to bail:—Alfred Mallerden, unlawfully wounding; Bridget Stanley, stealing from the person; Mary Ann Weekes, stealing from the person; Mary Ann Fraser, stealing from the person; James Pearce, larceny; John M'Call, larceny.

This brought the list of cases for trial to an end.

CENTRAL POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY.

BEFORE Messrs. Jolly, Hunt, Perdriau, Helsham, and Hughes.

Seven persons, charged with having been found drunk, were fined in the usual sums.

On charges of using obscene language, Ellen Reynolds was fined 10s., or in default of payment to be imprisoned four days; William Collins to pay 40s., or to be imprisoned one month; and Emily Jane Hunter to pay £5, or to be imprisoned three months.

Michael Riley, 79, was convicted of having offended against decency in Pitt-street at 10 a.m., and was sentenced to be imprisoned three months.

Mary Ann Elliott and John Davis were charged with stealing from the person. Constable Tilson deposed that a little after 5 o'clock yesterday, being on duty in Clarence-street, he saw the two prisoners running, followed by a publican named Boylson, who commenced taking something from Elliott; witness went up, and found Boylson taking sovereigns from Elliott, who had one hand behind her, as if handing something to Davis; Boylson gave him fourteen sovereigns, and he took one himself; Davis asked Elliott to give him the money that was left, and threatened to scatter his (the constable's) brains; the handkerchief produced he took from Elliott; at the lockup found in the folds of Elliott's dress five other sovereigns; then went to Boylson's public-house, where he saw the male prisoner, and in consequence of information received he apprehended him also; charged both prisoners with stealing from the person. George Spencer, of Market-street, sailmaker, deposed that yesterday afternoon he went to Stewart's Hotel, Clarence-street, and, besides having some drinks, paid for drinks for several others; as he was about to leave the house he was jammed in the door-way by the female prisoner, and the others, and a handkerchief containing twenty seven away; female whipped out of his trousers-pocket; the handkerchief he called to the landlord, who follo... corner of which he had chief produced is his property. Peter Boylson, of Stewart's tied the twenty ... yesterday the prosecutor came to his Hotel, had a drink, and paid for beer supplied on his order to several other persons, the prisoner among them; in the course of his conversation prosecutor said that he could spend a pound as easily as a shilling, and drew from his pocket a handkerchief in which there appeared to be money; the prosecutor afterwards called out that he had been robbed—"That woman has gone down the street with my money;" witness went out, saw the two prisoners walking very quickly, and he went after and overtook them; what followed the constable related. Prisoners were committed for trial at the Quarter Sessions.

James Ward was charged with uttering a forged note purporting to be of the Australian Joint Stock Bank for payment of £5. Constable Rourke deposed that in consequence of information received he apprehended the prisoner at the railway station about 10 p.m. of Saturday, the 31st March; produced a paper purporting to be a note of the Australian Joint Stock Bank for payment of £5, which he received from Mr. John Wright, two sovereigns which he took from prisoner's mouth, and 7s. 4d. found in his pocket; produced also twenty-two pieces of paper purporting to be £5-notes of the A. J. S. Bank, picked up by him near the spot on which prisoner stood when taken into custody, but did not see them fall from him. John Wright, of George-street South, boot salesman, deposed that on the evening of the 31st March the prisoner purchased at his shop two pairs of boots, and in payment gave him the paper produced, which, doubting its genuineness, he sent to Mr. Goodwin's public-house for change; received the change in sovereigns, four of which he handed in change to prisoner; he heard something afterwards which renewed his suspicions as to the character of the note, procured it from Mr. Goodwin, and set off after the prisoner, whom he next saw about 10 o'clock in the lock-up; he was then minus beard and whiskers, both which he wore when he purchased the boots. Alexander M'Lerie, manager of the Haymarket branch of the Australian Joint Stock Bank, deposed that all the notes produced were forgeries. Constable Palmer deposed that he was in the station when Rourke brought in the prisoner; Rourke had occasion to go out, and witness observed the prisoner shuffling about as if to make away with something; from his hand took one £1-note, and from his pocket a note resembling those pronounced by Mr. M'Lerie to be forgeries; in his coat-pockets found false beard and whiskers, some paints and tracing-paper, and a parallel rule. Henry Wright, brother of prosecutor, served the prisoner with the boots, took the note, procured change at Goodwin's, and handed the change to prisoner; he observed that the beard, &c., worn by the prisoner were not natural, and his suspicions were excited thereby; an hour and a half afterwards saw prisoner at the railway station, without whiskers or beard, and gave him into custody; saw a roll of notes fall from prisoner, and saw the constable pick them up. George Wright, another brother of the prosecutor's, went after the prisoner, followed him as far as Bathurst-street; he went into a dark place, and on his return to the street he was minus beard and whiskers; followed him from place to place until at the railway station he was met by his brother and a policeman, and he was given into custody. Prisoner asked no questions of either of the witnesses. Committed for trial at the Criminal Court.

PUBLIC COMPANIES.

PROSPECTUS of the WINGECARRIBBEE MILK COMPANY (Limited). Capital, £15,000 in 15,000 Shares of £1 each.

DIRECTORS:
Mr. Thomas Blencowe, Dairyman, Chairman
Mr. H. F. Ginger, Dairyman
Mr. Joseph M'Anally, Dairyman
Mr. G. P. Bartlett, Dairyman
Mr. D. Bresnahan, Dairyman
Mr. John Staggs, Dairyman
Mr. C. A. M... Dairyman;
Mr. ... of Burrawang.

SECRETARY: Mr. James W. Ball.

BANKERS: The Commercial Banking Company, Sydney and Mossvale.

SOLICITORS: Messrs. John Dawson and Son, Pitt-street, Sydney.

BROKERS: Messrs. C. Bate and Co., 147, Pitt-street, Sydney.

This Company is formed for the purpose of supplying Sydney with pure milk from the dairy district of Wingecarribbee. The proposed capital is £15,000 in 15,000 shares of £1 each; the liability of the shareholders to be limited to the amount of their shares.

The Directors propose in the first instance to erect a depot at Robertson (which is a district composed exclusively of dairy farmers and situated within easy distance of the railway), for the purpose of receiving the milk and packing and preparing it for transit to Sydney. The milk will be reduced in temperature almost to freezing point, and packed in refrigerateurs which will keep it at the same time till it arrives in Sydney, thus making it certain that the milk will keep in a sound condition at least as long as that which is produced on the spot. As the business of the company increases it is proposed to erect depots at Burrawang and Kangaloon, which are both dairy districts and also within easy distance of the railway.

A canvass of the district has been made, and it is ascertained that immediately on the first depot being established the milk of at least one thousand cows would be available, which the farmers are willing to deliver at the local depot at 8d per gallon. This number of cows will place at the disposal of the Company at least 1000 gallons of milk per day. This milk the directors propose to sell in Sydney at the minimum price of 1s 4d per gallon.

The following estimate of the yearly income and expenditure, based upon the operations of only one depot, that of Robertson, will show that a very large profit will accrue to the Company. It is made on the supposition that only 1000 gallons per day are sent from the depot at Robertson. When the others are established the expenses will of course be increased, but the profits will increase in a much larger ratio:—

ESTIMATED ANNUAL EXPENDITURE.

1000 gallons milk per day, at 8d per gallon	£12,166 13 4
Cost of ice	2,000 0 0
Railway haulage	1,003 15 0
Horse-feed	500 0 0
Directors, manager, clerks, and labourers	2,500 0 0
10 per cent. for unforseen expenses	1,817 0 10
Total annual expenditure	£19,987 9 2

ESTIMATED ANNUAL INCOME.

1000 gallons of milk per day, at 1s 4d per gallon	£24,333 6 8
By cost and expenses	19,987 9 2
Net annual profit	£4,345 17 6

It is proposed in the first instance, in order to facilitate the Company getting to work, to rent premises in Sydney, in a central position, for the purpose of receiving and vending the milk. When a suitable site can be obtained, the directors propose to erect a depot in Sydney.

From estimates of the cost of plant, &c., it is calculated for the Company to commence operations with the depots at Robertson and Sydney the sum of about £7000 will be required. This on a capital of £15,000 will only require 10s per share to be paid up. The rest of the capital will not be called in until the Company extends its operations.

It is proposed to offer 14,000 shares to the public, on the following terms, viz.:—2s 6d per share on application, and 2s 6d on allotment, and the balance in calls of not more than 2s 6d per share at intervals of not less than one month. The remaining 1000 shares will be reserved as preferential shares, which the promoters of this Company may take up at any time within two years of the registration of the Company, at the minimum price of £1 per share, or such portion of £1 as may at the time of taking up have been called in. Each of the promoters shall be entitled to take up any number not exceeding 100 shares within the time mentioned, and should they not be taken up, any remaining unsold may, at the expiration of that time, be sold for the benefit of the Company.

The Directors would desire particularly to draw the attention of the public to the extraordinary advantages the Company offers, a few of which are enumerated below:—

The district from which the milk will be obtained is one of the finest Dairy Districts in the colony. The ground has been cleared and laid down with the best artificial grasses, and the cows selected for the purpose of producing the greatest quantity of butter, thus giving a guarantee that the milk is of the highest quality and richness.

This is the only Dairy District is the colony that is in communication with Sydney by railway, so that if a permanent supply for Sydney is to be obtained from the country, this is the only district in the colony that can possibly furnish it. This at once places all the business in the hands of this Company.

To the Milkmen of Sydney, this Company offers milk of the best quality at a lower price than they can produce it by artificial feeding, and their profits will be increased by the handsome dividends which will be paid on the shares, if they co-operate by becoming shareholders.

To the General Public, as a means of investment, such an opportunity seldom if ever occurs. On the nominal capital of £15,000 from the minimum quantity of 1000 gallons per day, the profit will be £4345 17s 6d per annum, equal to a yearly dividend of 28 per cent. on the whole capital, or about 40 per cent. on the amount likely to be called in. When the other depots are established, it is firmly believed that the dividend will exceed 50 per cent. per annum.

The Directors would particularly draw attention to the fact that this is no speculation. The supply of milk can be obtained as soon as the Company is ready to receive it. It can be conveyed in a sound condition to Sydney at a great profit, and the demand in Sydney is practically unlimited. Therefore, six months after the Company begins business it will be in a position to pay a dividend upon the shares, which dividend, as the business increases, will constantly be larger. As the directors wish to commence sending milk to Sydney at as early a date as possible, they would urge upon the public the necessity of a prompt application for shares.

ANALYTICAL REPORT.
Laboratory of the Pharmaceutical Society of New South Wales, 42, Hunter-street, Sydney.
10th January, 1877.
Messrs. S. Hoffnung and Co.
GENTLEMEN,—I have carefully examined the sample of "Lediard's Knickerbocker Schnapps" sent to me for analysis, and have to report that it is an exceedingly pure spirit with a pleasant juniper flavour.
It is unusually free from the noxious fusel oils which are found in many samples of flavoured spirit, and which though masked by the flavouring are none the less deleterious; I have also tested it for acetate of lead, sometimes used for fining colourless spirit, and find neither it nor any other deleterious ingredient. I have therefore no hesitation in pronouncing it to be A PURE, WHOLESOME, AND PALATABLE STIMULANT.
I remain, yours truly,
WM. A. DIXON, F.C.S.

THE PRINCIPAL FURNITURE AND CARPET WAREHOUSE.
THE DRAWING-ROOM SUITE,
in the
EXHIBITION BUILDING, on which such flattering encomiums have been lavished, is but a fair sample of the usual manner in which all furniture that passes through the workshops in VICTORIA HOUSE,
is upholstered. No effort has been made to attain any SPECIAL EXCELLENCE in the articles there exhibited; they merely represent the GENERAL EXCELLENCE of the furniture we advertise, which, all who avail themselves of the opportunity daily offered to walk through our establishment may there see. And when it is remembered that DRAWING-ROOM SUITES, similar to that exhibited, upholstered in
CHARMING FRENCH TOURNAY, IN ELEGANTLY CARVED WALNUT FRAMES, can be purchased from us for the comparatively low sum of £35, it will at once be conceded that NO BETTER VALUE CAN ANYWHERE BE OBTAINED THAN IS OFFERED AT OUR ESTABLISHMENT.

REMINGTON SEWING-MACHINES.
WE HAVE much PLEASURE in stating that we are exhibiting these celebrated MACHINES at the EXHIBITION, when the public will be able to JUDGE of THEIR SUPERIOR MERITS, for which purpose we challenge COMPETITION with any other makers.
The REMINGTON COMPANY only ask a fair field and no FAVOUR, relying on the sound judgment of a DISCRIMINATING PUBLIC, who have already in the UNITED STATES ACKNOWLEDGED the superiority of the Remington Sewing-machines by the amount of sales there made, which now exceed that of any other COMPANY. And already in Australia they are fast coming into favour, as all those who are wanting to buy, and have taken the trouble to compare with other MACHINES, have WITHOUT hesitation, GIVEN the preference to the REMINGTON.
We have TESTIMONIALS (to be seen at our office) from the leading Sydney Houses, Machinists, and a large number of others testifying to their superiority over any others.
Competent hands in attendance to attend to all matters; and all parts of machines, oil, &c., in stock.
The price of the machines is reasonable, and terms liberal.

THE EXHIBITION AT THE ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE.
HAVE YOU SEEN IT?
House Furnishing Lists have been introduced in England upon an expensive scale by some of the really first-class Houses that exist in London; but the setting forth of house lists for the million is quite a new feature in the furnishing business. It is at the Royal Furnishing Arcade shown how a married couple can commence housekeeping with an outlay for furniture of only £15, or for any other sum that may be desirable. Taking the £200 house for example, it may be well to explain that any of the articles or any of the rooms may be left out or substituted for others; one person might be a lover of pictures, and not care much for music, in which case the piano could be dispensed with, and the £28 thus released would purchase a nice collection of oleographs and engravings. Another person may not require so many bedrooms, in which case one or more of them can be left out of the list, and the price of the house reduced by so much, or the proceeds devoted to furnishing a hall or small library, according to taste. Persons arriving in Sydney, and taking apartments, may select any room or rooms from these lists, may come and choose the articles and get comfortably settled down within two or three hours.

ANOTHER EXTRACT FROM THE HISTORY OF THE ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE, Page 19:—
And now about the noted PRINCE SATZUMA—
A man renowned, if we may trust to rumour,
For unexhausted, harmless, merry humour.
This curious figure was brought over from Japan, at great expense, and represents a Soldier, wearing real Japanese Armour, of an elegant and expensive kind. He has also beautifully inlaid war weapons, consisting of a Jagger, about seven feet long, the blade of which is composed of highly-tempered steel, and the staff or handle made of hardwood, inlaid with pearl; a spear, about 6 feet long; a beautiful and highly-finished sword, bows, arrows, &c.; one of the bows is made of wood like tortoiseshell. His appearance is extremely dignified. He made his first public appearance at the Intercolonial Exhibition last year (1876), where he excited great interest. He has a great many Missing Friends; and having been unsuccessful in meeting with them casually, frequently advertises with a view of gaining their attention. He is always delighted to see visitors, and may be seen at any time at the Picture Gallery entrance of the Grand Showroom Staircase midway down the ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE.
IN THE SHOWROOM UPSTAIRS
THE GORGEOUS EXHIBITION of noble lustres and artistically designed ornaments, for which the Continent of Europe is so justly celebrated, cannot fail to delight the beholder; the profuse variety of white and coloured cut crystal, intermingled with Bohemian and other rich glassware, when massed together in this way, tends to give some idea of the rapid progress this charming industry has made during the last few years. The variety of choice articles in this department of the ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE is surprising, and every facility is afforded to persons desirous of purchasing wedding, birthday, and other gifts, to make careful and suitable selections. The plainly marked prices are of great assistance in this respect.
HOUSE FURNISHERS will here find samples of all kinds of bedsteads set up to choose from, at prices varying from fourteen shillings to fourteen guineas. The electro-plated ware forms an important feature in this room, comprising new designs in cruet frames, toast racks, egg frames, side dishes, salvers, butter coolers, pickle frames, liqueurs, various combination frames, tea and coffee services, knives, forks, spoons, salt cellars, &c. In this superb SHOWROOM will also be found elegant Staffordshire and French DINNER, TEA, and COFFEE SERVICES, Edinburgh cut and engraved glassware comprising some of the cheapest suites ever brought before the public. The good ship Trafalgar has just arrived from London with 30 casks of glassware, bought well by a man of experience, and consisting of some of the cheapest sodas, tumblers, green hocks, and ordinary wine glasses ever landed in this market.
A few superior suites of DRAWING and DINING ROOM FURNITURE, elegant sideboards, canterburies, whatnots, superb toilets in pairs, devonports, worktables, inlaid oval tables, &c., purchased for cash in this market from the consignee considerably under the usual import prices, are ranged about to give substance to the show.
Magnificent PIER GLASSES, OF OVAL AND SQUARE SHAPES, are here exhibited, as well as in the ARCADE below, all marked in plain figures. There is also an immense variety of mahogany and marble slab toilet glasses, ranging from 3s 6d to £4 4s each. Girandoles and crystal studded mirrors are also shown here. Then there are choice fenders and fireirons, cornice-poles; also attractive well-framed oleographs, photographs, and engravings.
TRICHORD PIANOFORTES, of superior make, warranted instruments, by Bord, Erard, Aucher, &c., only to be sold for net cash, at a considerable discount off usual ruling prices. HARMONIUMS, by Alexandre, fine musical-boxes, 6, 8, 10, and 12 airs, with or without bells, and other recent improvements; black and white marble clocks, bronze clocks, and various other clocks, suitable for the drawing-room, the dining-room, and the kitchen, warranted to keep good time, and ranging in price from 7s 6d to £12 12s each; a few choice inlaid Victoria boxes, combining the writing-desk and work-box, very nice for presentation. There are hundreds of other desirable articles, comprising a variety by far too numerous to particularise, and only to be properly understood by a careful survey, which, as so often advertised, may be done with pleasure and freedom. Many people are diffident about coming to look without making a purchase, but they need not hesitate to come, because the proprietor is happy to see his novel establishment appreciated, and knows full well that it must ultimately result in business being done.
The ROYAL FURNISHING ARCADE has been visited by many people from the other colonies, and Melbourne men of business freely assert that it is the business gem of the Australias.

g g g g g g g g g g g g g g g g g gd Strawberry, by Mr. Jolly's bull (337).
The Prize Bull Baron Colling 2nd is perfectly sound, and has always enjoyed vigorous health. He has been used in the stud for three years, and has served cows at 20 guineas each. He is sire of the pure bull Red Duke, sold for 300 guineas to Mr. A. G. Well, of Ellerslie, Tumut; also of the prize heifers Princess Colling and Colling's Heartsease, &c.
Baron Colling 2nd was exhibited in England eight times during the season of 1872, and received six first prizes, one second, and one third. His sire, Baron Oxford, was purchased by Colonel Towneley, in 1867, at a cost of 500 guineas, and his half-brother and their dam, Lady Oxford 5th (winner of the 1st prize at the Royal Agricultural Show of England in 1863, also 1st prize at the Essex County Show, same year), made 505 guineas and 600 guineas respectively.
Baron Colling and the celebrated bull Royal Butterfly 6th (18757) are in direct descent from Charles Colling's cow Phœnix, dam of Favourite (252), and grand dam of Comet (155), by her son Favourite, the three great progenitors of the highest strain of Shorthorns.
At Charles Colling's sale in 1810, Comet was sold for 1000 guineas.
Lady (Baron Colling 2nd's 15th great dam) at 14 years old, sold for 206 guineas, and Countess (his 14th great dam), when 9 years old, for 400 guineas.
Red Butterfly, the great grand dam, was sold as a yearling for 4000 guineas, and her dam (Vestris 2nd) was the winner of the Gold Medal at Paris.
The Baron has been only once exhibited in this colony, viz., in 1874, when, in conjunction with Theodore, he won the Special Breeders' Prize for the best pair of Durham Bulls; and in class 22—Bulls 3 years and over—eleven entries, although young, he was placed second. Since then he has been one of the stud bulls at Nepean Towers. In 1876 he was inoculated as a protection against pleuro-pneumonia, and in consequence lost part of his tail, which, although a little disfigurement, considerably ENHANCES HIS VALUE, as he may NOW be considered safe against any attack of that fatal disease. The bull is now parted with to make room for new blood.

WINE.

UNRESERVED SALE of 36,000 GALLONS PURE DALWOOD WINES.

GRIFFITHS and WEAVER have received instructions from Mr. John Wyndham, of Dalwood, to sell by public auction, on WEDNESDAY, May 2, 1877, at the cellars, DALWOOD,
on the Hunter River,
The whole of his stock of matured wines,
about 36,000 gallons,
of the choicest vintages, the whole of which are all thoroughly ripe, and fit for immediate use and bottling.
The wines to be sold are all of the 1874-5 and older vintages, and comprise both Red and White fine Dalwoods, so long and favourably known to the trade and the public, as Fine Dalwood Red (Hermitage), gold label
Fine Dalwood Red (Burgundy), gold label
No. 2 Dalwood Red, bronze label
Fine Dalwood White (Pineau), gold label
Fine Dalwood White (Reisling), gold label
No. 2 Dalwood White (Shiraz), bronze medal.
The whole of the above will be offered for unreserved sale on very easy and favourable terms, and will be sold in lots of about 120 gallons each.

Delivery of each lot will be given at the Branxton railway station, and, if required, arrangements will be made with purchasers to bottle and case the lots sold.
As Mr. Wyndham now confines his attention exclusively to the production and maturing of his wine, he has adopted the system of making an annual sale by auction, at his own cellars, of his matured produce in the bulk.
The wines now offered are those which would in the usual course be bottled for use in the ensuing twelve months.
The Auctioneers can with confidence affirm that no other wines in the colonies have obtained such high honours and distinction at Exhibitions, including the Silver Medal at Paris in 1867, which was awarded to the Dalwood Exhibits by the first wine experts in the world.
The attendance of the wine trade and consumers of the pure juice of the grape is solicited. Vehicles will be in attendance to convey intending purchasers from the Branxton Railway station to Dalwood (a distance of 4 miles) on the day of sale.
Luncheon will be provided on the ground.

Samples of the Dalwood wines can be obtained of all respectable storekeepers and hotelkeepers.
For samples of the lots to be sold, and for catalogues and further particulars, apply to GRIFFITHS and WEAVER,
271, George-street, Sydney.

LINCOLN SHEEP from FARNHAM PARK, VICTORIA.

GRIFFITHS and WEAVER have received instructions from the breeders, Messrs. Rutledge, Brothers, of Farnham Park, Warrnambool, to sell by public auction, at the Exhibition Ground, Prince Alfred Park, Sydney, on WEDNESDAY, April 18,
The following Lincoln sheep, which have been selected and sent up for this Exhibition:—

17 two-tooth rams, having 9 crosses of the pure Lincoln
5 two-tooth ewes, having 9 crosses of the pure Lincoln
5 prime fat Lincoln wedders.
The Farnham Park flock is noted as the grandest and purest flock of Lincolns in Australia, and has competed most successfully at all the Exhibitions. These sheep are of the purest type, as none have less than 9 crosses of the pure Lincoln, and are of immense size, carrying heavy fleeces of long lustrous wool.
These sheep can be now inspected at the Quarantine Ground, Petersham, and will be delivered free of quarantine at the close of the Exhibition.
Also, on account of Mr. T. F. Knox.
7 two-tooth Lincoln rams, having 8 and 9 crosses of the pure Lincoln.

These 7 sheep are also bred by Messrs. Rutledge, Brothers, and are exactly similar to the first-named lots, but, being free of quarantine, can now be inspected in Sydney.

HARDIE and GORMAN are instructed to dispose of the RESIDUE of unsold lots, in this Estate, by PRIVATE CONTRACT, at the Rooms, Bell's-chambers, Pitt-street.

TO SPECULATORS, TIN MINERS, and others.

POSITIVE UNRESERVED SALE of the whole of the SEVERN RIVER TIN MINE AND PLANT, situate on the SEVERN RIVER, NEAR STANTHORPE, QUEENSLAND, and consisting of [illegible]000 ACRES of FREEHOLD land, known to contain large quantities of THE RICHEST RUBY TIN ORE.

This property commands a frontage of TWO or THREE MILES on both sides of the SEVERN RIVER, and is within a short distance of the township of STANTHORPE. THE GOVERNMENT ROAD also passes through the land direct to WARWICK.

THE PLANT consists of FIRST-CLASS PORTABLE ENGINE and PUMP, MINING IMPLEMENTS generally, MANAGER'S RESIDENCE, ORE BAGS, &c., &c.

TERMS, CASH.

HARDIE and GORMAN have received instructions from the Official Liquidator of the SEVERN RIVER TIN MINING CO. (Limited) to sell by public auction at the Rooms, Bell's-chambers, 175, Pitt-street, Sydney, at 11 o'clock, on TUESDAY, 22nd May next,

The whole of the COMPANY'S LAND, PLANT, &c., &c., of which further particulars will be duly published, and inventory prepared for inspection.

The Auctioneers desire to call the special attention of SPECULATORS and TIN-MINERS to this bona-fide and positive sale. It is believed that large quantities of this land, abounding in TIN ORE, yet remain to be developed, and which, no doubt, will yield a very HANDSOME RETURN.

The QUALITY of the TIN ORE from this property is a very RICH RUBY, assaying nearly always 75 per cent.

There is always a large supply of WATER from the SEVERN RIVER, which runs through the land, and which receives the DRIFT and ALLUVIUM of the following watercourses, viz.:—

QUART POT CREEK
SUGAR LOAF CREEK
THIRTEEN MILE CREEK
FOUR MILE CREEK
and
KETTLE SWAMP.

The course of the river is intersected with rocky bars of granite, thus forming a succession of WATERHOLES, varying much in extent and depth, but all supposed to contain large deposits of ALLUVIAL TIN.

The ENGINE and PUMP were purchased from Messrs. P. N. RUSSELL and COMPANY, of Sydney and the WORKING PLANT consists of the usual MINERS' PICKS, SHOVELS, &c.; and THE BUILDINGS are in very good order, comprising MANAGER'S RESIDENCE, ORE HOUSE, &c.

This ENTIRE PROPERTY is close to the well-known and very remunerative land known as APPLIN'S MINE, which is returning the very large yield of 40 TONS of TIN ORE per fortnight.

In addition to all the advantages enumerated above, it is further believed that the RAILWAY TO STANTHORPE will pass through this estate, and which must necessarily add to the PROSPECTIVE VALUE of this property.

It cannot be denied that, judiciously worked, this property will prove a very remunerative speculation; and the Auctioneers have every confidence in recommending the same to the notice of persons WILLING and COMPETENT to carry out the works.

The advantages are many and varied, and seldom can be offered at the same time.

Further information can be obtained at the SALE ROOMS of the AUCTIONEERS; or from Mr. BENJAMIN HARDAKER, STANTHORPE.

DAY OF SALE, 22nd MAY next.

ON THE ENVIRONS OF THE CITY OF SYDNEY, fronting the GREAT WESTERN or PARRAMATTA ROAD, and extending from thence to JOHNSTON'S BAY, DARLING HARBOUR.

W. PRITCHARD has been favoured with instructions from Captain ROBERT JOHNSTON, R.N., with the responsibility of disposing of, by PRIVATE CONTRACT in ONE LINE, or by PUBLIC AUCTION as a SUBDIVISION,

All that portion of the FAR-FAMED and MAGNIFICENT ANNANDALE ESTATE, known as ANNANDALE NORTH, together with the VALUABLE BUILDINGS and other improvements erected thereon.

This SPLENDID ESTATE comprises about 320 ACRES, and is situated close to the CITY BOUNDARY, and bounded on the south by the GREAT WESTERN or PARRAMATTA ROAD; on the east by the ARISTOCRATIC suburbs of FOREST LODGE and GLEBE; on the north by the WATERS of JOHNSTON'S BAY, and on the west by the MUNICIPALITIES of LEICHHARDT and BALMAIN, and is the connecting link dividing the city from the Southern and Western suburbs.

This ENORMOUS ESTATE is UNEQUALLED for its ADVANTAGES, and is the only UNOCCUPIED FREEHOLD LAND of any extent OBTAINABLE near the rapidly-growing METROPOLIS, and in the ONLY DIRECTION the CITY can possibly extend.

The fact of about TWO MILLIONS OF MONEY having been expended in PUBLIC BUILDINGS to this ESTATE considerably enhances its value.

The position is all that could be desired, ELEVATED and HEALTHY, commanding PICTURESQUE AND CHARMING VIEWS, and enjoying from its ALTITUDE the INVIGORATING OCEAN BREEZES, tempered by distance, while at the same time it possesses such rare NATURAL FEATURES, gently sloping on the one side to JOHNSTON'S CREEK, and on the other to WHITE'S CREEK, and thence into JOHNSTON'S BAY, that it is capable of the most PERFECT DRAINAGE IN EVERY PART, a great DESIDERATUM in purchasing land for BUILDING PURPOSES.

The ESTATE being of such COLOSSAL PROPORTIONS, the AUCTIONEER is in a position to make EXCEEDINGLY LIBERAL TERMS to meet the CONVENIENCE of speculative purchasers.

. It is a recognised fact in HISTORY, both in this and other COLONIES, that immediately PROPERTY changes hands and IMPROVEMENTS are created, that the VALUE is instantaneously DOUBLED or TREBLED.

It is the great COMPLAINT and OBSERVATION of every thinking man that the SUBDIVISIONS of the CITY and SUBURBS are only to be compared to spiders' webs, so narrow and irregular are the streets, (an error which can be avoided in this subdivision), consequently this ESTATE affords an UNPARALLELED opportunity for BUILDING AND INVESTMENT SOCIETIES, or the formation of a NEW COMPANY to build up a MODEL TOWNSHIP, or to SUBDIVIDE it and DISPOSE of it with such RESTRICTIONS as will command the CONFIDENCE of purchasers, and be a GUARANTEE that when they invest their CAPITAL in allotments of LAND for the purpose of BUILDING residences for themselves and families, they will not be annoyed by having any buildings adjoining that would depreciate their property.

There is an abundance of FIRST-CLASS STONE for BUILDING purposes on the ESTATE, and, as there is a considerable extent of DEEP WATER FRONTAGE, building materials can be landed on the property by ROAD or WATER.

The Auctioneer from his keen observation and experience unhesitatingly asserts that there has not been any building or investment society or banking institution established in New South Wales that will ensure such a handsome return for outlay as the purchase of the above property for building purposes.

The estate will be open for private sale until TUESDAY, the 1st of May, when, if not disposed of in one lot, the Auctioneer will proceed at once to subdivide it and dispose of it by public auction.

The house is most delightfully situated, nestled on one of the far-famed Pennant Hills, before which is laid out an amphitheatre, embracing for its objects the CITY, the RIVER, NEWTOWN, GLEBE, BALMAIN, PETERSHAM, ASHFIELD, BURWOOD, HOMEBUSH, ROOKWOOD, and "Nearer Home," Parramatta, and its outlying suburbs; Greystanes, Prospect, and the Blue Mountains, fading away in the far distance beyond Campbelltown.

For SALUBRITY, the Auctioneers are convinced, and they will be borne out in this opinion by the "faculty," after a personal visit, that the balmy air of this spot is not to be excelled by the European vaunted Madeira; and it has recently been observed that the "Orange Grove District" imparts "longevity," the results of its invigorating elements, bearing testimony leading to that conclusion.

This is perhaps one of the few attractive properties that only require a personal visit to be appreciated. It is adjoining the residence and park lands of G. Smythe, Esq.; those also of Messrs. Bettington, Bowman, Cox, and others; and intending purchasers can obtain cards to view, with all information, on application to the Auctioneers.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions from MONTAGUE MARKS, Esq., for the reason stated above, to sell by public auction, at the Rooms, Pitt-street, Sydney,
FRIDAY, 20th April instant,
at 11 o'clock,

The above choice and compact pastoral property.

GARA is an early selection on one of the most noted portions of the New England District, and contains about 45,000 acres of sound grazing country, principally of red gum, box, and apple tree, all well grassed, and of large carrying capabilities, every part of the run being abundantly watered by the Gara River and Coney, Pint-pot, Baker's, and other intersecting creeks. Gara is about 10 miles from the city of Armidale, and about 100 miles from the proposed Railway Station at Quirindi, which will presently be opened. It is surrounded by the well-known stations—Gostwyck, belonging to Messrs. Dangar, Brothers; Gyrah, belonging to Messrs. Legh and Anderson; Hillgrove, belonging to R. Hargrave, Esq.; and Tilbuster, belonging to George Cross, Esq.

The improvements, which are principally erected on purchased land, are of an unusually substantial character. They comprise, amongst others, at the head station, the HOMESTEAD, a well-built large-sized BRICK verandah COTTAGE, replete with all conveniences, containing eight rooms, with pantry and kitchen attached. Surrounding the cottage is a choice flower garden, containing many varieties of English trees and shrubs, and upon which great care has been expended, and adjoining it is an orchard of full-bearing fruit trees. The following shingled buildings are detached, viz.: STORE, with two bedrooms, STABLE of 6 stalls, HAY SHED, BUGGY and CART SHEDS, OVERSEER'S COTTAGE, of weatherboard, containing 4 rooms and kitchen, with stable, &c., detached. WOOLSHED quite equal to present flock. DRAFTING YARDS arranged on the most approved principles, equal to a larger number of sheep. STOCKYARD, MEN'S HUTS, WASHPOOL, and other conveniences for economically working the property, including substantial huts and yards at the outstations.

The PADDOCK accommodation encloses about 850 acres, subdivided into 7 paddocks, viz., 400, 200, 140 (newly fenced posts and rails), 60 (cultivation) cleared, and laid down in English grasses, and three smaller ones surrounding the homestead.

The PURCHASED LAND includes 868 acres in GRANTS, 150 acres provisionally secured for improvements, and 260 acres conditionally-purchased, and ready for transfer. These lands will be included in the sale, at a fixed price per acre. There are also 4195 acres of pre-emptive leased land attached to the freehold.

With GARA will be sold
18,800 SHEEP, more or less, and 800 CATTLE, more or less.

 The SHEEP are all of large frame, and yield a heavy clip of fine wool. Amongst the flocks there are a large number of grown wethers ready for market, and for next season there will be at least 5000 ewes to go to the rams, of which there is an ample supply of choice breed, viz., Bettington's, Bayly's, and Marsh's, and some from the noted "Canning Downs" flocks.

 The cattle are a very quiet herd, and lie close at home, and can nearly all be got together in a few days. Amongst them are 100 bullocks now ready for sale.

The above property has been worked with great advantage by its present proprietor, and would not have come into the market had not his intention to leave the district induced him to make a sale. To gentlemen desirous of obtaining a property having the advantage of being in one of the healthiest parts of the Northern districts of this colony, close to a large town, affording all requirements for a gentleman's family, and upon which a large outlay has been made to bring it to its present state of excellence, the opportunity of securing Gara should not be overlooked. A thorough inspection is invited, for which every facility will be afforded on the station.

TERMS.—One-third cash, balance by promissory notes, at 1 and 2 years' date, with 6 per cent. interest added, and secured in the usual way.

THE PICK OF WATSON'S BAY.

FOR POSITIVE SALE.

By order of the Executors of the Will of the late FRANCIS MITCHELL, Esq.

The extensive and beautifully situated FREEHOLD ESTATE, called BEACONSVILLE, containing about 40 acres, subdivided into
THIRTY-NINE CHOICE VILLA SITES, each containing upwards of HALF AN ACRE, with frontages to the NEW SOUTH HEAD ROAD, and several WIDE STREETS, all leading down to the BAY, and within a few minutes' walk of the PRESENT STEAMERS' Wharf.

TITLE UNEXCEPTIONABLE.

Full particulars may be obtained from W. G. PENNINGTON, Esq., Elizabeth-street, Solicitor to the Estate.

RICHARDSON and WRENCH have received instructions, as above mentioned, to sell by public auction,
ON THE GROUND,
On SATURDAY, 21st April, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The above VALUABLE FREEHOLD PROPERTY.

The BEACONSVILLE ESTATE as a fee simple block of land occupies one of the most charming positions on the waters of the HARBOUR that can be found between the CITY and the extreme point of the SOUTH HEAD. Commencing on the west side of the NEW SOUTH ROAD, nearly opposite the LIGHTHOUSE, it extends along that road to the Government Road leading to the WATERS of WATSON'S BAY,
and the proposed site of the
NEW PIER TO BE ERECTED BY GOVERNMENT.

On the opposite side of the road to this estate lies the lately-granted
RESERVE FOR PUBLIC RECREATION, which, under the direction of its able trustees, has within the last few months been greatly improved, and laid out in judiciously-selected walks and pleasant places for picnic parties without destroying the rugged—and in many parts romantic—scenery, which, even in its wild state, has made the noted GAP and its vicinity the favourite resort of our holiday-loving public for long years past.

BEACONSVILLE is naturally formed into well-marked terraces, its highest point being on the South Head Road, adjoining the South Head Hotel, from whence, by terrace after terrace, it gradually descends to the bay, as previously described. Advantage has been taken of these natural features of the land, and in laying out the present subdivision it has been so arranged that each allotment has a choice site for the erection of a villa, or for terraces of houses with ample ground front and back for garden purposes; each terrace enjoys its peculiar advantages, the highest commanding one of the most delightful of the Harbour views, looking citywards, that can be obtained, while the lower parts, though equally beautifully situated, but with less extensive view, are snugly sheltered from the strong southerly and south-east winds. Altogether, this estate can hardly be surpassed for the benefits it enjoys from its delightful position, and its easy access to the city, being only little more than half an hour's drive by the most favourite road out of Sydney, and having the Watson's Bay Steamers plying between it and Circular Quay several times a day.

Divided from BEACONSVILLE by the South Head Road only, are the EPISCOPALIAN and ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCHES, the National School, and other buildings, principally erected of stone obtained from the Estate upon which there are several valuable quarries.

The subdivision comprises LOTS 30, 31, 32, 42, 43, 43A, and 44, each containing areas varying from half to one acre with frontages to the NEW SOUTH HEAD ROAD.

LOTS 22, 27, 27A, 28, 31, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, and 38 have frontages to RUSSELL-STREET.

LOTS 39 to 41, to DERBY-STREET.

LOTS 44 and 44A, to SALISBURY-STREET, leading to the BEACH.

LOTS 45, 45A, 46, 47, 47A, to GLADSTONE-STREET.

LOT 49 contains 1 acre 1 rood and 25 perches, fronting GLADSTONE and PALMERSTON STREETS, and the BAY. It has a stream of fresh water running through it, and the soil is well adapted for gardens.

The other allotments, each of large size, have good frontages to PALMERSTON and CAMBRIDGE STREETS.

 LOT 46 contains an area of 1 acre and 30 perches, and on it is erected a verandah weatherboard Cottage, containing four rooms.

A PLAN of the estate is now ready for inspection at the Rooms, where LITHOGRAPHS may also be obtained. The land is plainly marked out by Mr. Surveyor Brownrigg, and, with the aid of a lithograph, the boundaries of each lot may be easily found.

 The steamer
has been engaged to carry intending purchasers to and from Watson's Bay on the day of sale, and will start from the Watson's Bay Wharf, CIRCULAR QUAY, at 2 o'clock, and return after conclusion of the sale.

FREE TICKETS for the trip there and back may be obtained on application at the Rooms.

TERMS LIBERAL.—One-third cash, and the balance by promissory notes, extending over three years, with interest added at 6 per cent. per annum.

That first-class highly-finished family MANSION, SPARNON,
together with its improved GROUNDS, having the following frontages:—
124¼ FEET to STANMORE ROAD,
202 FEET to GREAT TUPPER-STREET, situated on
STANMORE HEIGHTS,
being the choicest SITE in that beautiful favourite locality, overlooking Botany Bay, Sydney Harbour, Parramatta River, and the surrounding picturesque scenery.

THE HOUSE, built substantially of brick, cemented all round, on massive stone foundation, has a handsome elevation, with spacious balconies and verandahs; is approached in front by tastefully-designed ornamental massive stone steps. The principal apartments are entered from a wide hall. They comprise—

A well proportioned DRAWING ROOM, with grid windows

DINING ROOM of good size, also with oriel window.

LIBRARY and BREAKFAST ROOM.

The UPPER APARTMENTS are approached by a fine wide staircase. They include four large airy and lofty bedrooms, dressing room, bathroom, linen closet, paint closet, laboratory, and housemaid's pantry.

In the BASEMENT are lofty, dry, well ventilated wine cellars, dairy, store, &c., the floors all laid with patent tiles.

The FINISH of the internal work is very superior, the fittings being all of picked cedar, highly polished. The mantelpieces in all the rooms are marble of chaste designs, and the ceilings and cornices well decorated.

The OUT-OFFICES are very complete, comprising kitchen fitted with cooking range, laundry with copper, fixed washtubs, all of which have water laid on to them, and gas ironing stove, two pantries fitted with shelves; storerooms, &c.

Above the kitchen are the servants' apartments. The gas is laid on throughout the whole house even to the register stoves, which, in all the rooms, are fitted with asbestos, therefore requiring no coal or fuel.

On the STANMORE ROAD FRONTAGE and also in GREAT TUPPER-STREET are prettily-designed double-gate entrances, and the property is enclosed with close weatherboard ornamental fencing, well painted.

The GROUNDS attached to SPARNON in the front and on south-eastern side are beautifully laid out; and great taste has been displayed in the arrangement of them, the plants being all of the choicest descriptions of flowering shrubs and rare evergreens, whilst round the boundaries are fig, pine, and other large and stately trees, forming a complete shelter to the weaker and more delicate choice plants that beautify the grounds.

Around the residence and through the garden are walks laid down in patent concrete, as hard as stone itself.

There are also fern-house, croquet lawn, ornamental rockery, and rustic summer house.

STANMORE HEIGHTS, with regard to elevation, salubrity, convenience of access, is without doubt the most favoured spot on our railway suburbs.

TESTIMONIAL.

12, Norton-street, Surry Hills, Sydney, August 8, 1869.

Messrs. MYERS and SOLOMON,

GENTLEMEN,—I have for six years suffered from ulcerated lungs, difficulty of breathing, and spitting of blood, and have not been able to do any work the last three years. I could scarcely get about at times, and had to keep my bed for weeks together; I have been reduced to skin and bone through this distressing complaint. I have tried almost everything, but to no avail. Saw your advertisement of Lingard's Cough Linctus; got a small bottle, gave me instant relief. I have now taken four bottles, one each week, and, by God's blessing, I am now getting stronger every week, breathe easier, can eat hearty, and sleep well, and shal continue to take it, as I find it puts new life into me.

Yours, truly,
JOHN ROBERTS.

CURE OF RHEUMATIC GOUT.

July 12, 1876.

Mr. John Walton, of Dogdike, near Boston, writes: "I am 64 years of age, and have just been cured by Clarke's world-famed Blood Mixture of a dreadful attack of rheumatic gout, which had confined me to my bed for eighteen weeks.

CURE OF A BAD LEG.

"5, Chester Bridge, Crewe, June 12, 1876.

"Sir,—I have received the following from one of my numerous customers for your justly-celebrated 'Blood Mixture.' You are at liberty to publish it.—Yours, truly,

"E. BOOTH, Chemist.

"To Mr. F. J. Clarke."

"3, Liverpool-terrace, Crewe, June 10, 1876.

"Mr. Booth.—Dear Sir,—I have for a long time suffered with a bad leg—the inflammation extending from the knee to the toes—which was rapidly breaking up my constitution. As a last resort I obtained from you a small bottle of 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and experienced so much relief from it that I persevered, and seven (7) small bottles cured me. I have recommended it to several of my friends, who are now improving rapidly under its use.—Yours truly,

"HENRY DAVIES, Engine-fitter, Crewe Works."

CURE OF DROPSY.

"Gomersal, Leeds, September 4.

"Dear Sir,—This is to certify that two 11s bottles of Clarke's Blood Mixture cured my wife when three eminent doctors were powerless.

"Her complaint was dropsy, and she had been ill nearly ten years.—Yours truly,

"JOHN COX."

WONDERFUL CURE OF ULCERATED SORE LEGS OF 18 YEARS' STANDING.

Messrs. C. Mumby and Company, Pharmaceutical Chemists, Gosport, writes as follows:—

"Sir,—We have received the enclosed testimonial, and have much pleasure in forwarding it to you. As he obtained the medicine from us, we can vouch for the truth of his statement."

"27th February, 1875.

"I, Charles Luker, keeper of the Royal Engineers' Office at Gosport, having had ulcerated sore legs for the last 18 years, which broke out while stationed at the Cape of Good Hope, since my return to England I have tried everything in the way of patent medicines I could hear of, and have had the best advice, both in Government and private hospitals, but obtained no permanent relief; on hearing, three months ago, of your medicines, I was induced to try them, and, wonderful to relate, after having taken one large bottle of Blood Mixture, and applied two 4s 6d pots of your Miraculous Salve, my legs are perfectly healed.

"CHAS. LUKER, late Sergeant R. Engineers.

"Witness.—W. J. Sparrow.

"To Mr. F. J. Clarke, Lincoln."

SKIN DISEASES, eruptions, blotches, spots, pimples, pustules, boils, carbuncles, ringworms, scald heads, sore eyes, erysipelas, itch, scurfs, discolourations of the skin, humours and diseases of the skin of whatever name or nature, are literally carried out of the system in a short time by the use of this world-famed medicine.

IMPORTANT ADVICE TO ALL.—Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

CLARKE'S WORLD-FAMED BLOOD MIXTURE is sold in bottles, 2s 6d each, and in cases containing six times the quantity, 11s each—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.

COLONIAL DRUG DISCOVERIES.—In expressing my acknowledgments to the Wholesale Merchants of Sydney who have at last entered into the spirit of my medicinal discoveries, and last year enabled their country clients to dispose of over £8000 worth of oils alone, I have still to remind some of them that in many parts of this colony these oils are not within the access of many. One gentleman, who had by accident used a little of it on board a steamer, found so great a relief, that he sent sixty miles for more of it; another had to send 240 miles, and Mr. M'Culloch, of the firm of White and M'Culloch, only knew of it a few weeks ago. Were this state of things completely remedied, the country sales would reach £30,000. Each month improves, and if we can finish the year as we have begun it, over 500,000 bottles will be sold.

Two years ago in attempting to show the Sydney merchants that a trade would arise, they, to a man, looked shy. In Melbourne not a house would touch it; this morning I am offered a bonus for exclusive right to sell. So much for two years' results of a new industry. As a Sydney merchant said—"We have never before seen a patent drug take such a hold of the popular feeling, the demand keeps daily increasing, so much so, that it is a common thing for ladies who have once used a bottle to come and purchase a whole case and secure the discount."

This year I had prepared a fine show for the Exhibition, but a single firm, observing the way the goods were got up, bought them all; and although our staff of hands have been increased, yet it will take us three weeks to finish our present orders. The fact is, the store is cleared out every week, and as only a given quantity can be prepared in a given time, orders sent in after next week cannot be executed for some time.

Of course the whole success is due to the character of the SCOTTISH HIGHLAND OIL. I tried for years to get squatters to understand that I had introduced a completely new and simple method of treating animals, but it was not understood until I sent out this oil for human use, even some cannot understand how an oil, which neither burns, nor blisters, nor pains, can cure so many old stubborn diseases. But the facts are as stubborn as the disease, and everywhere people who have been cured tell their tale with joy.

Storekeepers from the country can get their supplies from the wholesale house, in bulk, and get as large a discount from them as they could get from me.

J. POTTIE, Manufacturer, 263, Elizabeth-street.
